

Military Regime in Korea Split Over Division of Power

Marines and Paratroopers Demand More Council Places

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A split in the new military government today over the division of power among the military services. A competent source said marines and paratroopers who took over Seoul last Tuesday and were the shock troops of the coup refused an order Saturday to withdraw from the Capitol building and return to their camps outside Seoul.

The marines and paratroopers reportedly demanded more places on the 30-member revolutionary council, which except for a marine brigadier general and colonel consists entirely of army officers. There is also a marine colonel in the cabinet of 15 officers that was sworn in Sunday.

U. S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder, under whose U. N. command all South Korean forces are placed, reportedly demanded Saturday that all the 3,600 troops used in the coup return to their original stations.

The order to move out was issued by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yong, the junta chief who also is premier, defense minister and army chief of staff.

Letter to Kennedy

Although the marines and paratroopers furnished the troops for the coup, the composition of the revolutionary council and the cabinet reflected the relative strength of South Korea's armed forces. Unofficial estimates put the army at 500,000 men, including 3,000 paratroopers, the marines and air force at 15,000 each and the navy 10,000.

Despite the reported rift, the new military regime pressed ahead vigorously.

Foreign Minister Kim Hong-il, a retired lieutenant general, said

City Quiet But Tense; 18 Arrested

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — This historic city was quiet but tense today — a sharp contrast to bloody racial rioting which brought martial rule.

Armed national guardsmen patrolled the Greyhound bus station and a Negro church where last night's main outbreak of violence took place. Others patrolled the downtown sector and its fringes in jeeps.

Federal deputies sent in over the weekend also were seen on the streets.

City and county officers arrested 18 white persons after the disturbance.

Sporadic outbreaks of trouble, including two house burning attempts had continued for hours after steel-helmeted troops with fixed bayonets took command.

Negroes Return Home

An estimated 1,000 Negro worshippers returned home quietly in the pre-dawn hours after spending most of the night in a church auditorium in protective custody. A day 200 additional U. S. marshals mob had tried to get at them, but are being sent to strike town, by 5 a m the church area was Montgomery, Ala. This will bring deserted except for 25 national guardsmen left on guard duty.

"We don't anticipate any further trouble here," said a national guard officer.

Among the churchgoers were 18 of the Freedom Bus riders whose arrival in Montgomery Saturday touched off repeated attacks by club - swinging white men and women. The so-called Freedom Riders were testing Alabama's bus segregation laws.

Only Negroes remained in the bus-riding group after the lone white man among them was savagely beaten and sent to a hospital and two white girls also mauled by the surging mob Saturday morning, were sent home by train.

Total Number in Montgomery Now Between 600, 700

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today 200 additional U. S. marshals should be sent to Montgomery, Ala., to help maintain order.

Kennedy said many of the marshals now there have been up for 48 hours, that Alabama is a large state, and that the Justice Department wants to be sure enough marshals are there.

Kennedy made his announcement to a crowded news conference.

When a reporter asked the specific reason for sending more marshals Kennedy replied, "Obviously we're not satisfied with the situation or we wouldn't be sending more in."

The federal government is reported determined to use any means available — including a move-in of Army regulars if necessary to maintain order in Montgomery.

The Post-Crescent was unable to reach James Zwerg, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Zwerg, 630 S. Riverview Lane, directly at St. Jude's Hospital in Montgomery, Ala., but City Editor David Brooker talked by telephone with Bob Duke, reporter for the Montgomery Advertiser, who was at the scene of Saturday's riot. Du Pont Must Give Up Holdings in GM

Ruling Involves 63 Million Shares Valued at $2.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supreme court today ruled that E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. must give up its huge stock holdings in General Motors Corp.

The court ruled on a Justice Department appeal from a decision by U. S. Dist. Judge Walter J. La Bay in Chicago. La Bay found Du Pont's surrender of its voting power in GM would be sufficient to meet the antitrust laws.

The Justice Department appeal insisted Du Pont should be required to dispose outright of its 63 million shares of stock in GM. The shares are valued at more than $2.5 billion.

Justice Brennan delivered the court's majority opinion. Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion which Justices Whitaker and Stewart joined.

Justices Clark and Harlan took the Korean war in 1950, takes over no part in the case. Thus the vote was 4-3.

Justice Brennan's opinion said that the court's majority thought "the public is entitled to the surer, cleaner remedy of divestiture."

Brennan added:

"The same result would follow even if we were in doubt. For it is well settled that once the government has successfully borne the considerable burden of establishing a violation of law, all doubts as to the remedy are to be resolved in its (the government's) favor."

Brennan said the court majority felt that "this already protracted litigation should be concluded as soon as possible."

10-Year Maximum

"To that end," he said, "we direct the district court (in Chicago) on receipt of our mandate to enter an order requiring Du Pont to file within 60 days a proposed judgment providing for complete divestiture of its General Motors stock, to commence within 90 days, and to be completed within not to exceed 10 years, of the effective date of the district court's judgment."

Frankfurter said in his 44-page dissent opinion that Judge La Bay "has fashioned a closely knit network of provisions to prevent preferential dealings between General Motors and Du Pont."

He noted that La Bay was certain divestiture of the GM stock by Du Pont would work great and unjustifiable loss on wholly innocent investors.

The prices of both DuPont and General Motors dropped sharply on the New York Stock Exchange, on the news. DuPont, which had been up $9.50 at $229.50 at one point as Wall Street anticipated a favorable ruling, plunged below last Friday's close of $220 and kept going. Within minutes after the news reached the trading floor, it sold at $212. General Motors, up 75 cents at $49.50 at one point, slipped to $47.50, off $1.25 from Friday.

Afghans Fight Pakistani in Khyber Pass

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Afghan regular soldiers, reportedly have joined in the fighting around the Khyber Pass, where Pakistani forces have been battling Pathan tribal guerrillas.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan told newsmen that regulars from Afghanistan attacked a Pakistani border post Friday night with mortar and machine gun fire. Pakistani officials said two Afghans were killed but did not give their own casualties. Fighting spread Saturday to two more posts.

Pakistani Air Force planes strafed Afghan forces and destroyed "enemy positions" in areas near the 23-mile-long mountain pass. Combat on a large scale was not indicated.

There have been many clashes along the Khyber border region, just west of Peshawar. Afghanistan has been agitating for a separate Pushtoonistan state for the Pathan warrior tribes living on both sides of the border.

Evidence Insufficient In Alleged Plot to Kidnap Star's Children

LAS VEGAS (AP) — A sheriff's detective says there is "insufficient evidence" to jail three waiters allegedly involved in a plot two years ago to kidnap two of Elizabeth Taylor's children.

"So far all we have is the word of one conspirator," Detective Jerry Brown said Sunday.

One of the waiters told Sheriff Ralph Lamb that a car smashup prevented the trio from carrying out the kidnap plan. The informant feared that the other two men planned a new kidnap attempt during the current visit of Miss Taylor and her husband singer Eddie Fisher.

James D. Gallagher, 19, of Granton, who lived at 513 Ceape Ave., Oshkosh, fell from a canoe on Marl Lake and drowned about 2 30 p.m. His body was recovered some 60 feet from shore at 3:30 p.m. by Richard Glock and Pershing Petersen of the King Grand Army Home Fire Department.

Gallagher and his two companions James Felda and Phillip Belongie both 18 and both of Oshkosh told authorities they were in separate canoes and did not see Gallagher's accident.

Heard Splash

They said they heard a splash and saw Gallagher in the water. When they started to come to his rescue he slipped below the water. The boys said Gallagher had a jacket-type life preserver in the canoe.

Dr. K. L. Haman, Waupaca, said Gallagher died of drowning and said there would be no inquest.

Gallagher was apprenticed to Gudden's Barber Shop in Oshkosh. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Gallagher of Granton. He

Released Cuban Rebels Striving to Arrange Trade for Other Captives

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro is prepared to exchange political prisoners in Cuba for what he calls political ones.

Castro mentioned bulldozers in making the exchange offer. "he really meant tractors,"

Although Reuther said no funds would be accepted or solicited until after today's meeting, donations and offers of money poured in.

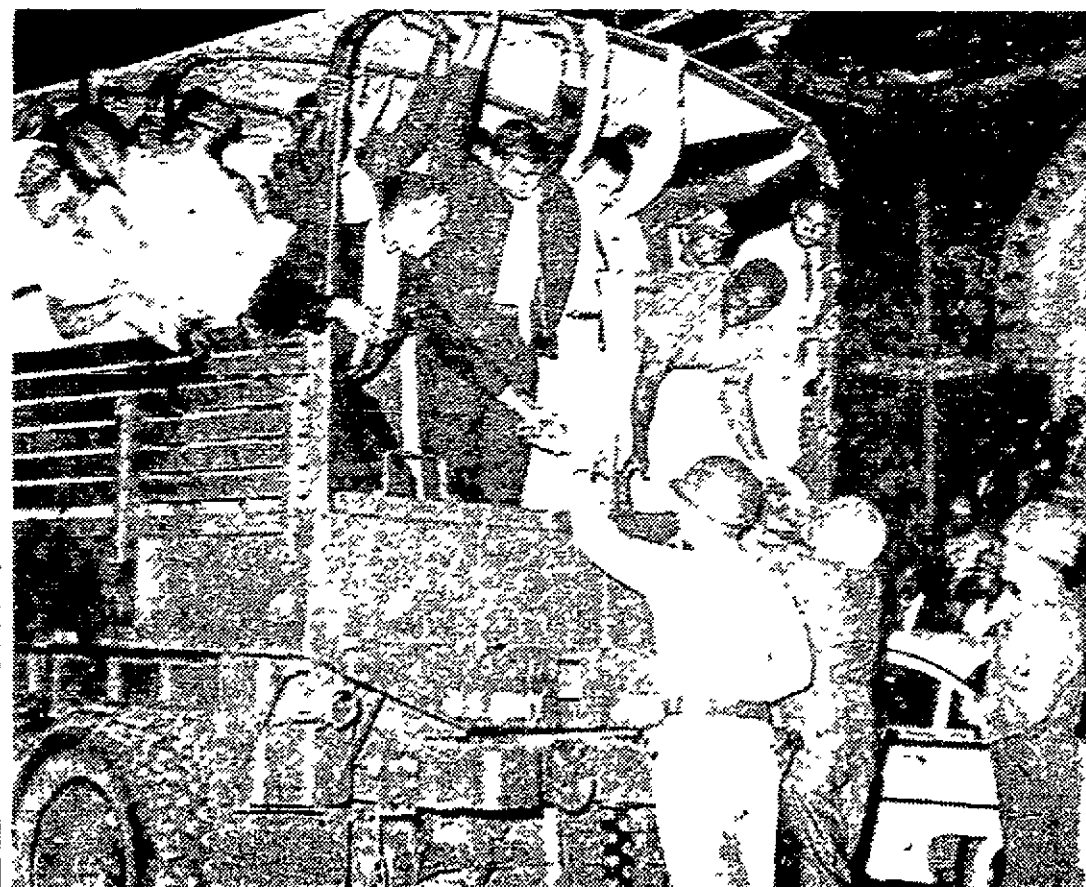

Robert Berrellez, Associated Press correspondent just returned from imprisonment in Cuba, said the offer was "another propaganda trick. It's a form of political blackmail."

Latin America Critical

Castro ran into sharp criticism from the press in Latin America, and scattered Latin American organizations began fund raising drives to help buy the tractors.

Buenos Aires influential La Prensa said the offer by Castro recalled Nazi proposals in World War II to exchange Jews for trucks.

The 10-man negotiating team arrived in Miami Friday. The Havana radio said they were given a week to arrange for the ransom.

Prosecution Given Help By Eichmann

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann is helping his Israeli prosecutors by calling their attention to gaps in the parade of documents submitted against him.

The Israeli prosecution, accusing Eichmann with primary responsibility in the Nazi pogrom of Europe's Jews, has presented 300 exhibits so far, some of them containing multiple documents.

Eichmann, bald and saturnine, at 55, has kept a running account of them all in his glass-enclosed dock.

But trial sources disclosed the defendant has not been satisfied with the presentation of papers drawn from the Gestapo's files.

"He has been sending his own written notes through his counsel to the prosecution, insisting on having documents we do not have," a prosecution source said.

"We have gotten them lately, almost every day. When we check back, we find he is right and something is missing. Then we check what is missing and most often find a document he would say were passengers in a car he pulled in front of a truck gotten. In a curious way he is at an intersection of two main highways."

PTA Chides Americans For Comfort Emphasis

Claims Country Putting Private Wants Far Ahead of Public Needs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — this country to recognize those things that are really important."

Mrs. Parker, finishing a three-year term as president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an interview: "The great concern in this country with the creature comforts is perfectly evident in many cases where school bond issues are voted down. Many of the voters could afford the higher taxes to build schools, but they refuse to pay this most necessary of all their bills."

In a prepared speech marking the formal opening of the 65th annual convention of the national congress today, Mrs. Parker posed these questions for Americans: "Are we a people whose only devotion is to comfort, convenience and the consumption of luxuries?"

Two-Shift School

"Have we put possessing a no-shift automobile ahead of abolishing the two-shift school?"

"Do we pinch pennies on slum clearance, public services, and delinquency control in order to spend them on milder cigarettes, softer mattresses and easier driving cars?"

"Have we put private wants above public needs?"

"Have we abandoned the goals that gave our nation vigor and purpose in its youth?"

Mrs. Parker told the convention that the image of America being gins in the home, and that "perhaps the home has no task so important as giving concrete meaning to the idea of human dignity."

"As we treat people, so will our children," she said.

South Africa Prepares for New Disorder

Call Up Militia to Quell Unrest During May 31 Ceremonies

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An estimated 5,000 militia and army reservists began reporting today in an emergency callup to help crush antigovernment and antisegregation demonstrations in South Africa's nonwhite majority, has announced 'will begin next Monday.

The white reservists were called up in the country's major cities for a nationwide show of strength in an effort to prevent disorders when South Africa is proclaimed a Republic May 31.

Leaders of the nonwhites have threatened strikes and protest demonstrations of "noncooperation" May 29-31 unless Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's all-white government agrees to discuss giving them voting rights and a share in the government.

Police Raids

The military alert—one of the most extensive any South African government has ordered in peacetime—is coupled with nationwide police raids resulting in the arrest of thousands of nonwhites and some whites suspected of supporting the antirepublic demonstration plans.

Most nonwhites arrested are charged with vagrancy, shirking work or petty crime. They are being clapped into jails by the hundreds so they can't make trouble at the end of the month.

The South African Press Association reported nearly 600 Negroes were arrested in the administrative capital of Pretoria, where Charles R. Swart will be inaugurated as the South African republic's first president on May 31.

Control Issue Could Cast Shadow Over Kennedy-Nikita Talks

Has Been Stumbling Block to All Negotiations Since End of War

GENEVA (AP)—The perennial any agreement between the two dispute between the West and the camps is vital to Western security. Communist leaders contend that the western governments will use international control machinery as a front for legalized spying on the Communist countries.

Western diplomats in Geneva feel that this stumbling block of virtually all East-West negotiations since World War II may well be a central theme of the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks in Vienna next month.

The Western idea that in the absence of mutual confidence, East and West must provide for safeguards to prevent violations of accords, has dominated all attempts to end the cold war.

Vital to Security

The issue of controls has prevented progress in 15 years of disarmament negotiations. It has slowed down the three-power test ban talks here. It cropped up again at the start of the conference on Laos.

White House May Act in Automobile Talks Stalemate

Reuther Willing, but Industry Opposes Outside Intervention

BY A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP)—A shadow of influences into what they term the bargaining table when the United Auto Workers Union and the automaker kingpins sit down next month to begin negotiations on new wage contracts.

Labor counts President John F. Kennedy among its friends. UAW President Walter P. Reuther pumped strenuously for his election. The question is: If the going gets tougher than Reuther likes, can or will he ask the administration to intervene?

Stepped In
Auto industry spokesmen point out the Kennedy administration has stepped into virtually every major strike-producing dispute since it took office.

Time and again, the automakers have opposed bringing outside influences into what they term the bargaining table when the United Auto Workers Union and the automaker kingpins sit down next month to begin negotiations on new wage contracts.

Reuther Prods
While at Reuther's prodding the UAW has adopted a set of flexible, rather than rigid, demands for this year's bargaining, the UAW made a shorter work week its No. 1 objective—to preserve jobs: make more of them.

Kennedy, however, is on record against less than a 40-hour work week. He contends 40-hour production is needed to promote economic growth.

Could Reuther press for government intervention to win his No. 1 goal—to which the President had objected in advance?

Are Flexible
Maybe not, a union spokesman says, "but remember we are flexible and willing to go in any one or several directions to increase job security and job opportunity. The auto contracts expire Aug. 31 at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Bargaining talks begin the last week in June.

There is no doubt Reuther expects a tough time at the bargaining table. There are more than 900,000 unsold new cars in dealer lots and showrooms. Unemployment is high in the auto industry.

These are among major reasons for flexible union goals this time. There is no all-out drive for profit-sharing, as in 1958, or a guaranteed annual wage, as in 1955.

Market Glutted
While the new car market still is glutted, sales have picked up in recent weeks. Reuther will carry to the talks knowledge that the United Rubber Workers won a 14 1/2-cent hourly wage increase this year; that the Ladies' Garment Workers got 14 cents and Dundee Cement Workers 30 cents over two years.

The automakers can counter these successes with the loss by the International Union of Electrical Workers at General Electric last year of the annual improvement factor, which gives auto workers an automatic 2 1/2 per cent raise yearly. Reuther has served notice the UAW intends to keep this in its contracts.

The last time Washington intervened in auto negotiations was in 1948. Neither side came away with what it wanted.

Settles Strike
President Harry S. Truman called both sides to Washington in an attempt to settle the industry's longest strike—a 114-day one, against General Motors.

Truman first proposed the UAW go back to work and GM reopen its plants. The union rejected this. Then, Truman suggested submission of the dispute to a public fact-finding committee. GM listened to the committee outline its purpose and then walked out.

Committee Recommends
The committee recommended today. There were no reports of an 18 1/2-cent hourly increase, compared with GM's last public offer of 13 1/2 cents. The union demanded the addition of another cent to the committee's recommendation, but finally settled for 18 1/2.

Both organized labor and the auto industry have former representatives in the President's Cabinet. Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, resigned as an AFL-CIO legal counsel; Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, quit the presidency of the Ford Motor Co. to join the Cabinet.

Both sides have the President's ear at another level, too. Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and Reuther are members of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policies.

Goldberg Intervenes
The automakers view with apprehension Goldberg's quick jump into the New York tugboat strike in January; his intervention in February in the strike of airline flight engineers, and in the strike of mechanics against National Airlines.

Government intervention, the automakers claim, has settled nothing in any of the three, and all the strike-causing issues still are alive.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, a law professor at the University of Wisconsin, heads both the presidential commission studying the flight engineers dispute and the arbitration board hearing the National argument.

Auto industry spokesmen recall Feinsinger said in the steel strike that developed during the Korean War that he was far more interested in keeping steel moving to defense plants than in preserving integrity of the dollar.

The automakers agree there are some college professors well versed in labor and its problems, but insist most are theorists and that theories often break down in actual practice.

Mall Built By 40 People At Marinette

MARINETTE (AP) — Forty Marinette residents started digging at midnight Saturday and when they put aside their tools Sunday morning a downtown eyesore had been replaced by a sodded, flowering business district "mall."

A fire several years ago destroyed the Farmers and Merchants Bank, which was rebuilt at another location, leaving in its place a heap of debris and a scarred ground on Dunlap Square, passed by as many as 40,000 motorists daily during the summer. After arriving with shovels, paint brushes and rakes Saturday night, the 40 residents removed five truckloads of debris, stripped plaster and lathe from the wall

Byrnes Talks Against Fiscal Policies of JFK

Green Bay Politician Hits Tax, Debt Administration

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, a member of the House tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, who doesn't like many of the Kennedy-administration fiscal policies, is urging his colleagues in no uncertain words to do something about it.

Twice within the last 10 days Byrnes, who is chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, has lashed out at proposals and practices being expounded by the current administration in fields of taxation and debt management.

He knocked the Treasury Department's "willingness to violate the spirit of the law by selling government bonds at discount". This, he said was done to "evade a statutory interest rate ceiling of 4 1/2 per cent."

Revision Necessary
"The Eisenhower Administration recognized that the 4 1/2 per cent interest rate ceiling was an intolerable handicap to proper debt management," Byrnes said. Last week he charged that the Kennedy administration in its tax message had failed to measure up to the challenge of tax reform, making it necessary for the congress to assume this task.

"Tax revision is both desirable and necessary, but in revising our tax structure, we must be certain that we are moving ahead and not backwards," Byrnes said.

U. S. to Use Any Means To Quell Race Rioting

Federal Troops May be Brought in but Officials Await Further Developments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government today was recalled "freedom riders" movement ready to use any means available—including a move-in of Army regulars if necessary—to end race riots and maintain order in Montgomery, Ala.

But officials brushed aside all questions on this score as they waited to see the result of Alabama Gov. John Patterson's declaration of martial law in the Montgomery area.

The governor called out a detachment of state National Guardmen late Sunday night after a week of violent mob action back. This, he said, meant the resulting from attempts by white state to break racial segregation on interstate passenger buses.

Howling Mob
Patterson acted as a howling mob attempted to close in on a Negro church in which Negro leaders had gathered to President John F. Kennedy.

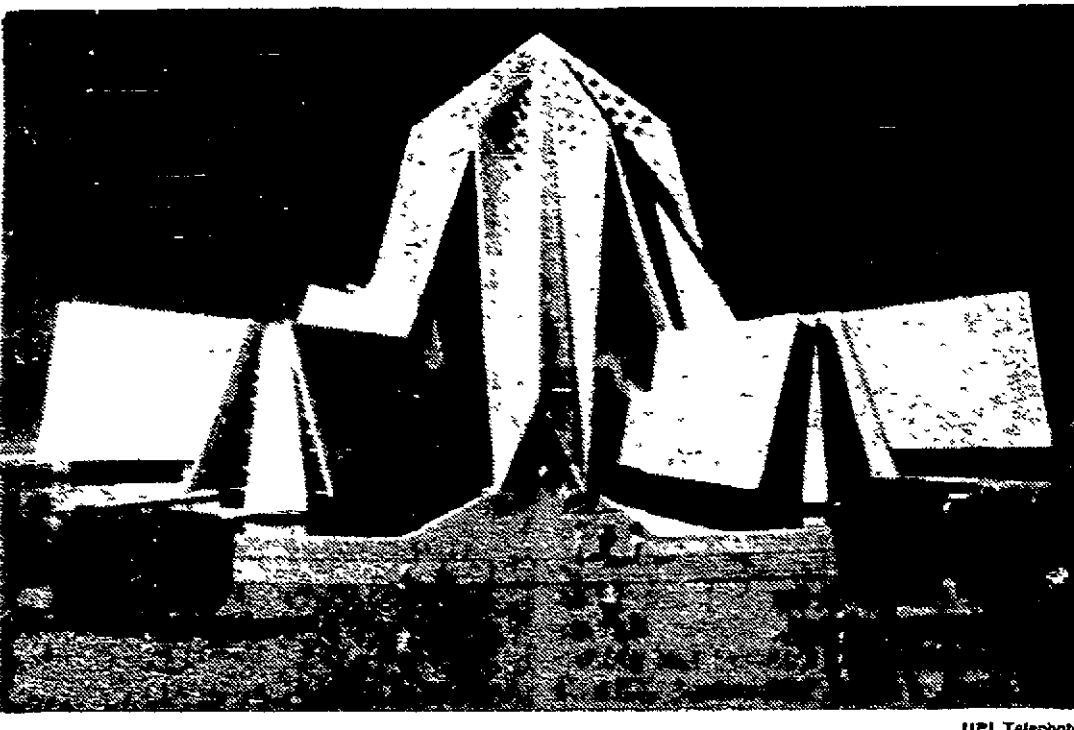

spending the weekend at his country home in Middleburg, Va. Patterson Sunday afternoon protested by wire to the attorney general that the federal marshals were not needed and not wanted. The governor said state authorities could take care of the situation.

Kennedy's reply was "the United States government needs assurance by action—not words—that its citizens will be safe in the state of Alabama."

Nelson Backs Tax Levy for Non-Residents

Says Money Should Reimburse Areas Which Lose Dollars

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson said today he approves legislation that would allow the state to levy income taxes on non-residents employed in Wisconsin and that the money should be used to reimburse communities expected to lose taxing potential to Minnesota.

Plans Were Unveiled for a "spiritual United Nations," a structure representing major religions of the world. Shown is a model of the Temple of Understanding which will be built as a symbol of spiritual brotherhood and sisterhood of mankind. clubbed and smashed to the ground with fists in two hours of rioting near the Greyhound bus station.

After 18 hours of a jittery quiet, another screaming, brick-throwing mob struck Sunday night against the Negroes jam-packed into a church to greet the "freedom riders" and hear the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. condemn the city for what he called Hitler-like barbarism.

It was the Sunday night uprising which provoked Gov. John M. Patterson to proclaim "qualified martial rule" and give troops under Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham sweeping powers to take whatever action necessary to restore order.

Protests U. S. Action
The governor previously had protested bitterly against U. S. marshals and deputies to U. S. marshals and deputies to Montgomery to prevent further interference with the bus riders. In a tense, face-to-face meeting with Kennedy's top assistant, Byron R. White, the state's chief executive threatened to jail federal officers who sought to exert their authority in the absence of a request for federal help.

Patterson in his proclamation of martial law still insisted that the self-styled "freedom riders"—he called them "agitators"—were to blame for the race rioting because of their insistence on testing bus station racial barriers.

But, he decreed, "there now exists . . . a serious emergency, a defiance of the constitution and laws of Alabama, a state of lawlessness . . . which the local officers are unable to subdue."

Despite angry federal-state bickering earlier in the day, U. S. officers worked alongside city and state police and the battle-trained guardsmen after Patterson ordered out the troops.

Reprieve for Riders
Even the bus riders won a reprieve from the threat of arrest on charges of violating a state court injunction which had sought to stop them from riding a bus here from Birmingham.

Sheriff's deputies holding court to set aside for park and recreation purposes. But he added that in past discussions on the subject the federal government "has been happy to cooperate"

Osteopathic Doctors Hear Attack on Some 'Unethical Practices'

BURLINGTON (AP)—The Wisconsin Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons have heard attack on "some of the unethical practices" of certain chiropractors.

Dr. J.S. Crane of Milwaukee, president of the association, said in remarks at the opening of the group's annual convention Sunday at Brown's Lake. "We have all seen ads in newspapers where some chiropractors claim to cure diseases, ranging from anemia to hangnail, by the simple use of spinal adjustments."

"We as osteopathic physicians, who make no such claims, can unfortunately be associated with them because we do manipulative therapy."

It was the second such attack on chiropractors this month. At the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Medical Society, a speaker used the phrase "quackery" in denouncing chiropractic.

Split Reported In Government Of South Korea

Gen. Chang sent a letter to President Kennedy May 17, the day after the uprising against the government of deposed Premier John M. Chang broke out.

Kim said the contents of the letter would not be disclosed until the White House acknowledged its receipt. But Chang presumably asked the President to support the new anti-Communist, pro-Western regime.

Gunman Tries, Can't Make Draw

DETROIT (AP)—James Richardson, 29, is the slowest gun in the Midwest, according to bartender Morris Albert.

Richardson and Roland Price, 39, walked into his place shortly before midnight Saturday, Albert said, and announced "this is a holdup."

Richardson reached for a .33 caliber revolver tucked in his belt, Albert said, and became a study in futility as he tried to pull out the weapon, which had caught on his trousers. He gave up and the receipt. But Chang presumably asked the President to support the new anti-Communist, pro-Western regime.

They walked right into two policemen. The pair was held for investigation of armed robbery.

Primary System
Or another subject, the governor said the does not approve of a bill that would abolish the state's presidential primary system. Such a measure has been introduced in the Senate.

"I'd just as soon have primaries," Nelson said, "they create an interesting race every four years."

Nelson said he planned to go to Washington, D.C. Thursday to speak with General Service Administration (GSA) officials on the state's acquisition of abandoned Bong Air Force base lands in Kenosha and Racine counties. The governor said the property has been appraised and that he will ask the GSA to give a portion of it to the state for park and recreation purposes. The remaining land could be purchased with funds raised in a bond issue, a financing measure already approved by the Legislature.

The chief executive would not disclose the appraisal price nor did he say how much he expected to set aside for park and recreation purposes. But he added that in past discussions on the subject the federal government "has been happy to cooperate"

Birch Society Founder Denies Organization Desires Semi-Secret U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The founder and president of the John Birch Society has denied his organization refuses to make an accounting of its funds, desires an authoritarian U.S. government or is semi-secret.

Robert Welch, retired Belmont, Mass., candy manufacturer, said last night the aims of the militantly conservative organization were well known and that auditors now are preparing a complete report on its finances.

In a rare session with the press, Welch was asked about accusations his group was authoritarian and monolithic and whether he wanted this type of government in the United States.

"No," he replied. "I have said the best form of government is a republic and the worst is a democracy. . . our purpose is to inform our fellow citizens so they do the right things politically."

He told a television news panel that the accounting of society finances would be made to the organization's governing council, not to individual members.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The hydraulic system of a twin-engine airplane failed, but the craft landed safely without injury to its 16 passengers and 3 crew members.

The National Airlines plane, from Miami, circled the Key West airport Sunday while fire-fighting equipment assembled. The pilots manually lowered the gear and the plane landed without incident.

Sees Shakeup In Wake of Cuba Invasion

But Facts Indicate
Top Officials Had Approved of Plan

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff, the nation's top military planners, have been blasted since the Cuban invasion disaster.

This writer has been told reliably that President Kennedy is burned up at them and also at Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It will be no surprise if he removes Dulles and shakes up the chiefs. But there is reluctance in the Defense Department from the top down to see the chiefs get clobbered—for this reason:

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara himself approved the decision to let the invasion be made.

What follows is the story of what happened, made timely once more because of what occurred over the weekend after Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, testified before a Senate committee behind closed doors. Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat, said the chiefs had "blundered incredibly" and should be thrown out. A milder reaction came from Sen. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican.

He said it's an American habit to look for goats when things go wrong.

American Habit

Those taking part in the decision on the invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro were Kennedy, McNamara, Lemnitzer, Dulles, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant on security, sitting in on all sessions.

These men had numerous meetings, went into all phases of the invasion exhaustively, including the possibility of failure. They not only studied yards of maps endlessly but even went into the problem of invading on various beaches.

Generally speaking, the decision to go ahead with the invasion was unanimous among all those mentioned.

They made this decision knowing only about 1,200 men would be the invading force and that Castro had 35,000 tons of Soviet-bloc equipment and many thousands of men under arms.

The Odds

Nevertheless, the White House group thought the odds were in favor of the invaders. Why?

They thought only one-third of the Cuban population was loyal to Castro and that the other two-thirds, once the invasion began, would rise up against him.

In retrospect it seems incredible the decision for the invasion was primarily based on the assumption there would be an uprising, an uprising which never took place. The assumption had to be based on information about the Cuban people.

Dulles' CIA, which would be responsible for information on the mood of the Cuban people, says its information was perfect. If it was, in view of the invasion failure, what went wrong?

This is the CIA's explanation: that the invasion had to be sustained to give the Cuban masses time to respond by an uprising. But it wasn't sustained. Why not? That's a part of the story which hasn't been revealed at all yet.

The Reasons

These were some of the reasons behind the White House decision to go ahead with the invasion:

1. It was thought this was the last time the American government could assume Castro could be overthrown by anything short of direct American intervention.

2. Continuation of the Castro regime is a danger to the United States in its relations with other Latin American countries.

3. There was some puzzlement about what to do with the rebels—if they didn't invade since they had been in training for a year. For instance: where, if they did not hit Cuba, could they have been absorbed?

4. There was a "marginal" chance of overthrowing Castro.

"Better-Than-Ever" Savings On Many Unadvertized Sale Items

Mr. Eisenhower's GOP Team

Former President Eisenhower has organized a team composed of 10 former Eisenhower cabinet members and an equal number of administrative officers to make a continuing review of the Kennedy administration's foreign and domestic policies. After a 5-hour meeting of the group in Gettysburg recently the former president announced that the group would speak out occasionally to advise the public on "the way we think the country should be going."

Mr. Eisenhower said that the group had no intention of dictating to the Republican party but he nevertheless made it clear that it would speak out for whatever effect it might have on Republican thinking. The former President said he would not hesitate to speak out at any time to offer "intelligent criticism" in the field of foreign policy. However, he was emphatic in saying that this was not the time for such criticism in that area.

The public has been interested to note that President Eisenhower has been very cautious in his statements relative to the Kennedy administration's handling of foreign affairs. He has stated repeatedly he does not approve of attempting to make political hay out of errors by the present administration if such criticism might possibly support the cold war enemies of this country. In fact, the difference between the Eisenhower criticism of the Kennedy administration and the criticism which Mr. Kennedy was offering of the Eisenhower administration only a few months ago during the campaign are so great as to be impressive. The difference can be accounted for largely from the fact that Mr. Eisenhower, because of his recent experience in office, knows the difficulties which face any American administration which is occupied with problems cooked up by the Reds. Thus he has called upon his friends in the Republican party to avoid harmful criticism.

One may be sure that if Mr. Kennedy were on the stump today he would be much more reserved in his statements. He would now be speaking in the light of experience just as Mr. Eisenhower is speaking. It is a good thing for this country that Mr. Eisenhower has the interest of this country first in his mind and in his heart and is therefore able to forego the opportunity to offer any hint of the "I told you so" type of criticism.

We think this country, and indeed Mr. Kennedy, understand the situation very well. There is no need to labor the subject further. The management of the foreign policy of the United States in this day and age is an almost impossible task. It takes rare courage and the greatest amount of self-control possible to steer this country in the course necessary to maintain peace. Mr. Eisenhower, in his wisdom, is giving Mr. Kennedy all the help he possibly can because he knows full well that the welfare of the United States demands such cooperation at this time.

The War Goes On

Almost a hundred years ago, according to a legend immortalized by John Greenleaf Whittier, Confederate troops led by Stonewall Jackson came to Frederick, Maryland, a city some 40 miles northwest of Washington. A loyal old lady named Barbara Fritchie refused the orders to take down American flags. "Shoot if you must this old grey head but spare your country's flag!" she said," according to the poem. Gen. Jackson, of course, rode on. "Who touches a hair on you grey head, dies like a dog! March on!" he said.

But a couple of years later another general came to Frederick. Jubal Early intended to sack the town and seize hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Union army supplies. The town fathers offered a ransom. The five banks dug into the coffers and then floated a bond issue to give Early $200,000.

Now Frederick wants the money back — not from Early's descendants, but from Congress. The money ransomed union supplies, the argument goes. Two other cities have been so repaid. The bond issue, finally finished in 1951 paid in interest several times the original amount.

Besides, Frederick is the home town of Francis Scott Key and wants to celebrate the Civil War centennial with a fanfare — if it gets the cash.

The army — and so far Congress — contends that Frederick actually saved itself with the ransom. Besides, officials think that some sort of statute of limitations must be in order since it all happened almost a century ago.

The Civil War is not only being remembered skirmish by skirmish. In some ways it isn't even over.

Astronauts Need Protection for Their Salaries

America's seven astronauts not only do not receive special compensation for their work in this field but they are actually in danger of losing their flight pay which runs from $200 to $245 per month depending upon the rank of astronauts.

Since this fact has been published Congress may be expected to act promptly to correct this apparent injustice. It is pointed out that a simple amendment to the military pay law such as was passed in 1960 to meet the needs of the technicians on nuclear submarines would do the trick. The astronauts are among the nation's finest pilots. But in order to maintain their flight pay each of them must jam four hours of flying into each month. In their present busy schedule that is difficult to do.

About two years ago the astronauts were in trouble because military red-tape made it difficult for them to get planes for their flying time. However, corrective action was taken then and the astronauts now have their personal "fleet" of two air force F-102s at their disposal. Even so it is difficult for them to find the time for the necessary four hours of flying due to the heavy press of work in the Mercury project.

While it is conceded that there is little danger to the astronauts in the performance of their regular required flying duties, there is nevertheless some danger connected with it, and it may be that the military would be happy to relieve them of this requirement. It is estimated that on the basis of 23 accidents for each 100,000 flying hours which is the record for the F-102, the astronauts would be flying about 13 years before coming to grief in their required flying. Furthermore the government itself might save $2,400 a month which is the cost of operating the planes for the astronauts' regular flying time.

Even though the danger of flying appears slight, the space agency requires the astronauts to fly in separate planes when they are moving. Usually four may fly in one plane and three in another when they are required to move from one place to another.

The astronauts now receive total monthly pay ranging from $859.43 to $1,149.68, including cash and allowances. Their flight pay represents between one-fifth and one-fourth of their military income. Flight pay is based on rank and length of service. Capt. Cooper receives $200 per month while Lt. Col. John H. Glenn of the U. S. Marine Corps receives $245 flight pay. The ranking astronaut, Cmdr. Shepard, gets $230 flight pay.

Obviously the astronauts have plenty to do and enough to worry about without being troubled by such problems as flight pay. The members of Congress of course are more than willing to make the correction but because Congress is so big and so cumbersome, such things require time.

It's Hard to Get Fleeced in Fleas

The possibilities of trade with Russia has tempted a great many western nations to risk their money or goods in spite of the opposition of their friends.

Most of them have learned that the Russians are as difficult to trade with as they are to negotiate with on matters of public affairs. However, Lord Rothschild's sister, The Hon. Mrs. Miriam Lane, has found a way to trade with the Russians with little chance of loss.

Mrs. Lane's father was the world's leading authority on the flea. She has written 25 learned papers and four books on the subject and is in charge of her father's collection of more than 1,500 species of fleas now at the British museum. She says that before her deal with the Russians, Britain possessed specimens of 96 per cent of the world's 2,000 known types of fleas. The rest of the types are rare and are found only in Russia.

She says she is very grateful to the Russians for their help in providing many of these new rare species. She is getting the help of four entomologists scattered over the Soviet Union.

We can see no objection to her trading with Russia on this basis and we sincerely hope that she gets the rare species she is seeking and further that she succeeds in getting a goodly number of a virulent strain of dog fleas into Russia.

Coffee Break May Lead to 'Tachyphylaxis'

From The St. Petersburg Independent

We hope it does not come as too great a shock to you, but you may be threatened with a condition known medically as tachyphylaxis.

You had better check yourself, or your habits, to be sure. It seems you get this dread, we presume, condition by making too many trips to the coffee-pot.

Bosses will be pleased, we suspect, to learn that too many coffee breaks are neither justified nor desirable. A doctor at the University of Michigan has issued a statement which shakes the foundation of the frequent coffee-break custom. He says if you had coffee at 9 a.m. you can't use another to any advantage until 12 noon.

You can stay away from the coffee-pot and save yourself that tachyphylaxis condition, but think of the gossip you might miss.

Birch Members Not Radical, But Leadership Overzealous

From The St. Louis Globe-Democrat

Radicals of the left or right are irrational, bereft at least temporarily of judgment and common sense. The several thousand members of the John Birch Society are not radicals. They are simply patriotic folk who hate Communism and want to do something to stop its spread in the United States.

The same cannot be said for the Birch Society's leadership, with its fantastic character smears against some of the most dedicated, unimpeachably loyal men in America.

The head of the Birch organization, formed in 1958 to fight Communist subversion, is Robert Welch, a retired Massachusetts candy manufacturer. Undoubtedly Mr. Welch is a devoted anti-Communist. But his zeal has made him a zealot.

His wild charges that such men as Dwight D. Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles, Allen Dulles, Milton Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman are Communists or Communist agents constitute, as Senator Thomas J. Dodd declared, "an affront to decency and intelligence." These accusations, contained in a Welch book and still unrepented by the author, are ardent stupidity.

If the slickest arch-conspirator of the Communist apparatus in America had hatched out the Welch statements, he could not have done a better job to disparage efforts of anti-Reds fighting the Communist plot in the United States.

Subversionists and propaganda - peddling fellow travelers must be in gleeful convulsions.

Let one fact, however, be made clear about the John Birch Society and its unfortunate pronouncements: While their extremist outpourings put them at the lunatic fringe, their purpose, even their distressing comments, are not treason.

What Communist subversives and their pappard dupes are trying to do is rape America of freedom, the Constitutional guarantees behind which Reds themselves hide. By a sellout to international Communism, they would destroy the government and democracy of the nation.

If this is not traitorism to America, Benedict Arnold was a plaster-of-Paris patriot.

The danger in the fulminations from Welch et al. is that the ultra-liberal pinkies will hop on the John Birch Society — with backstage direction from card-carrying Communists — and use its errors in an attempt to flail all anti-Red organizations into eclipse.

Most of this organization's members are unquestionably sincere and only wish to "save America before it is too late."

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

Miracle of oriental cause and effect: Lyndon Johnson smiles at a Chinese baby on Formosa — and the ROK army promptly takes over Korea.

The idea of paying farmers to raise fewer crops has spread to the college campus. Now a young man can work his way through college by playing less basketball.

Americans for Democratic Action rebukes Kennedy for being too conservative. The A. D. A. is kind of the Greenwich Village chapter of the John Birch Society.

Congress debates cutting down on business expense accounts. Probable new rule: You can treat a client to a dinner of pheasant under glass — but not three days at the lodge to shoot the pheasant.

Europe is divided over proposed Kennedy-Khrushchev talks. Some think Jack Kennedy's just the man to handle Khrushchev. Others would prefer old Joe Kennedy.

There are many intelligent, rising groups — 103 at the moment on American college campuses — devoted to combating the infection of Communist tents.

The design to alert the nation to the danger of Marxian infiltration is tremendously important. It might be balked by the fiasco over the Birch excesses, certainly if the ultra-liberals can manage the coup.

The hypocritical liberal frontiers, who bled their way through indictments of the Un-American Activities Committee, when Communist traveler groups or Reds were investigated, can already be heard demanding the Birch Society and its chiefs be summoned before Senate and House committees.

The Globe-Democrat thoroughly coincides with the observation made by Senator Dodd, on the floor of the Senate:

"The press has a tremendous weapon for public good in the power of exposure. It has used it effectively in this [Birch Society] case."

"But for some reason which I cannot understand, it has not used this weapon anywhere near as effectively against the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, the various offshoots of the Communist peace offensive and the other Communist front operations in this country."

"...I would be more than satisfied if our press devoted as much column space in coming months to exposing the subterranean operations of the Communist party in this country as they have in recent weeks to exposing the excesses of the John Birch Society."

The crackpot fringe we have always had with us, in one outburst or another. And we have survived, whether the weird manifestations have been from right or left.

The current billow must not be allowed to curb or smother the intelligent, unrelenting battle against the subversion and stooge propaganda of the Red Trojan horsemen.

Birch Society Might Serve Good Purpose

From The Oregonian

The John Birch Society publicity will serve a good purpose if it alerts some of the society's members to the dangers of a program overburdened with ill will, and if it alerts men of good will to their own responsibilities for action on matters of public opinion.

The citizen who refuses to take an active role in determining the policies of his schools, his government and other public affairs is in no position to be critical of the active role pursued by the extremists.

It is no public service, for example, just to be against the John Birch Society.

Change in Volunteer System

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 25, 1861.

Last week Gov. Randall received instructions from Washington referring to the organization of Volunteer forces materially modifying the system upon which we have been proceeding.

Under this new arrangement all the officers of the Brigade when called into the service of the United States are appointed by the U.S. The minimum number to constitute a company is 83, maximum 101. Thus far all companies have been composed of 78 men, including officers.

The rank of Ensign has been discontinued and each company is to have two Lieutenants, five Sergeants and eight Corporals. The Quartermasters and Commissary of the Regiment are to be selected from among the Lieutenants.

Human Rights Still Perplexing, Difficult

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — In any reasonable appraisal, the effort in the legislature to outlaw by state statute the silent but nevertheless real barriers to the purchase or rental of homes by Negroes in most Wisconsin cities is one of the most difficult and perplexing issues of the times.

The hearing before the state senate committee on governmental affairs, held nearly four months after the ambitious bill was introduced by the Governor's Commission on Human Rights, presented the conflicting viewpoints on the issue more clearly than such divisions are usually shown in the legislative committee room.

Very few thoughtful listeners, it may be hazarded, left without some uncertainty about their own views of the merits of the strongly argued and diametrically opposed positions.

On the one hand there were the moving testimonials to the fact that in Milwaukee today — and doubtless elsewhere — a colored man cannot buy the house of his choice in the location of his choice in spite of all the democratic principles the country has historically espoused, and in spite of the nation's protestations in a time when the colored peoples of the world are the targets of the greatest power struggle in which the country has ever been engaged.

THE IRONY

One eloquent Milwaukee inan put it well when he remarked, only half sarcastically, that it might be better for some of his friends to emigrate to Europe, and then seek admission to this country as displaced persons. Immigrants from other countries who have borne arms against the United States are treated without the discrimination that is shown for Americans who have been loyal citizens for generations. If the prime minister of all the Russians would become a refugee and seek asylum in this country, he added with elaborate irony, there would be citizens committees organized to find him a place to live.

The listener found himself imagining what his views would be on this question had his ancestors been black and these became personal problems.

But that was only half of the story told to the state senators who listened with a gravity that was suggestive also.

A parade of real estate brokers, who would be the immediate defendants in the enforcement of any such law as proposed, did an equally persuasive job of explaining that the problem of intolerance and prejudice is not in the office of the realtor, but in the hearts of the men and women who list properties, for sale or rent, and who now occupy the neighborhood of superior status and value in which their Negro compatriots are unwelcome. Generosity and understanding cannot be achieved by force of law, they were saying, any more than wisdom.

THE FACTS

The conscientious listener comes away from such proceedings in profound perplexity. Surely it is a tragic refutation of the bill of rights and all of the other sacred documents of the American idea, as the champions of a punitive law on civil rights insist. But almost surely, too, there is no assurance that the deep roots of prejudice and misunderstanding can be pulled out because a little more than half of the legislature votes for a solemn abjuration in the form of a bill.

The answer may be more of the hard, plodding, often discouraging effort that is the ideal of the American educational process. The advocate of such a middle course stands in peril of contempt from the one side of this fight, and of association with pretenders and false pleaders on the other.

But prejudice is a fact of American life. This reporter knows some people who dislike Democrats with a passion, others who regard with the bleak intolerance those who uphold Republican viewpoints. In labor-management relations, in religious divisions, in many ethnic divisions that have no relation to color, hatreds and deep-seated prejudices are commonplace. Eradicating them may well be hopeless. Yet there are optimists who believe progress is being made.

Tree Standing Alone Symbol of Noble Man

From The St. Louis Globe-Democrat

You see them in the lowlands, along the fences and walls of moving fields, on boulder-studded pasture hillsides, and on craggy ridge heights.

A tree that stands alone is a symbol. Graceful elms along the rivers and brooks, patriarchal beeches, great oaks and gaunt maples are trees that have fought a long, testing battle and have established their strength.

For a century and more they have known the tempests of winter, the miracle of spring and the heat of summer. A century ago a small seed found sanctuary in good humus and a tiny white root struck downward; a slender green shoot lifted toward the sky and stars. Over the decades while a nation fought wars, grew in power and tapped the sources of space, the trees grew taller.

Cattle have rested in their shade; birds have made homes among their branches. Great roots reached far to find food as bole and branches developed. Men and women have lifted their eyes to the trees and in their serenity have found inspiration for the testing of life.

A tree that stands alone represents qualities that a man admires. The tree has met and conquered the storms of life; it has bowed but never broken before powerful forces. Its feet are in the ground but its head is lifted to the light.

All men stand alone. Each has his private sanctuary where no other may enter. A man with his feet on the ground and his head lifted to the sky and stars has a foundation that will stand the test when tempests assault.

Boyle May Make Some Farmers Boil Today

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a farmer gets tired of hearing: "The government has decided it can't pay you next year for not growing corn. Is it okay, instead, if we pay you for not growing soybeans?"

"But Dad, I really want to go to Primburg Teachers' College. Why is it so important to you that I go to Vassar?"

"The farmers used to borrow money from the banks. Now the banks are borrowing from the farmers." "Daddy I found an old comic magazine in the attic full of jokes about the farmer's daughter and the hired hand. Just what is a hired hand?"

"Oh, you farmers are always bawling about something. You'd complain if they gave you the whole country on a silver platter." "Frankly, I think it's time we fashioned hand plow in the back road wearing overalls. What's going on? Are they making a movie?"

"Lemme see now. First we put the harness over his head, and strung it along his back—I think Then we bent down and tightened a cinch here—or was it on the other side? To tell you the truth, it's been so long I kinda forget." "I just saw a farmer down the road wearing overalls. What's going on? Are they making a movie?"

"Jed, it's a delicate matter and I hate to bring it up. But junior asked if I'd please tell you to quit the church social tonight. Can you stop by the bakery in town and pick out a nice cake? We're supposed to bring something." "I don't care how much better you like them, I'm not going to stand over any steaming stove this year putting up tomatoes. If frozen vegetables are good enough for city folk, you can learn to like them, too."

"The doctor phoned and said he's just too busy to make country calls on weekends. He said if the condition doesn't clear up by next Tuesday maybe you'd better go to the hospital, and he'll drop in to see you on Wednesday."

"The supermarket over at Greenville has raised the price of eggs five cents a dozen again. What do they think farmers are made of—money? Sometimes I wish we still kept our own chickens."

"Yeah, I know it's a bad drought. But it could be worse. What if a drought ever hit Washington, D.C.?"

Duke said Zwerg was beaten about the head "and I think he was kicked, too. He had cuts about the head and face—not bad

$25,000 Grant Will Help Hero Get Out of Debt

U. S. Approves Sum For Fisherman Who Aided in Sea Rescue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Napoli, rescue hero in the sinking of the Navy hospital ship Benevolence 11 years ago, says the $25,000 rewarded him by Congress "will put my head above water."

Napoli, 57, is a former crab fisherman who was injured and suffered indirect financial losses as a result of his rescuing 70 persons.

The Benevolence and the freighter Mary Luckenbach collided in a dense fog off the Golden

John Napoli

Gate Aug. 25, 1950. Twenty-four persons were killed.

Napoli damaged his fishing boat transferring survivors to the freighter and a Coast Guard cutter at the scene. He had to sell the boat at a loss. And because he hurt his back and no longer could fish, he had to sell his crab traps at a loss.

He worked at odd jobs until the General Steamship Corp. put him on steady as a shipping clerk four years ago. His wife died in 1958.

"First, I square up with everything," he said. "I owe a lot of bills yet, medical on myself and on a funeral for my wife. Then the rest in a trust fund where nobody can touch it. Not even myself, except maybe $50 a month for a while. With my job, I oughta get along."

The $25,000 grant, passed finally, now awaits President Kennedy's signature.

Cree Doesn't Care for Civilization, Mostly Noise—Wants to Go Home

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — A swarthy Cree Indian from the land of the caribou slipped into Green Bay last week and had his first look at civilization, its fol de rol and its trappings.

"I don't like it here," he said, "I want to go home."

The new-fangled telephone—the first he has ever seen — automobiles, trucks, hotels and restaurants: "I don't like none of them," he said laconically. "I want to go home."

The visitor from the fringes of the Arctic circle is John Bird, a full-blooded Cree hunter-trapper and guide for a famed hunting and fishing lodge deep in the craggy Canadian wilderness.

With a superb show of native good manners, the visitor was reluctant to specify the things he did not like about civilization, but "the noises" seemed to predominate.

"But," said the interviewer jokingly, "you have the noise of big animals."

"I don't mind them," said Bird.

"And the crazy, noisy loons out on the water?"

"I don't mind them," he replied.

"And the howling of your huskies?"

"I don't mind them," he answered simply.

"But isn't the telephone wonderful? And television, and automobile?"

"No," he said.

The white skinned ladies of Green Bay are not very pretty, Bird implied, and the streets are far, far too busy, and the noises are raucous and unpleasant to the plain and simple fellow from the wilderness.

He admitted that he liked some of the foods he tasted for the first time, and his favorite was "what you call it — prime ribs of beef."

He was unmoved by strawberries and other delicacies, and he said of watermelon, "I don't like it."

Bird, who reckons his age at "between 40 and 45" had never seen most of the impediments of civilization, but he found nothing wrong with beer or bourbon even though he prefers his own liquor which is smilingly identified as "Moose milk" and which is made with hot water, raisins, yeast and sugar; then fermented.

The soft spoken Indian has impeccable manners, plain and unsullied by artificialities. He is too often silent for a lunch-time chat, but he speaks openly and honestly without ramifications.

Bird has come to Green Bay under the guidance of his part-time employer, Fred E. Lockhart, proprietor of the Arctic Lodge which lies on Rainbow Lake, a body of water 210 miles long and 40 miles wide. The quiet, dignified charm of Mr. Bird is a sure attention getter and that, plainly, is the purpose of this visit from the primitive Canadian wilderness to the space age.

Under the sponsorship of Radio-TV station WBAY, a charter-ed DC-3 will carry some 20 area people — first come first served — to the land of the "big ones."

The journey to the fishing waters of Reindeer Lake is scheduled for June 25-July 2. The cost: $550.

Bird, one of Lockhart's best guides, hunts his moose with a .22 calibre rifle and he catches his own fish with a net.

"Sometimes I catch big lake trout, 50 pounds," he said.

But John, when he hunts by himself, he hunts for food; when he fishes, he fishes for food. He has a wife and four children. The latter bear such prosaic Anglo-Saxon names as Victoria, Henry, Clarence and Pete.

Bird lives with his family in a log cabin, recently purchased for $250. He has nine sled dogs worth about $50 each, an old 30-30 rifle, a 12-gauge shotgun and his .22. He has the effrontery to hunt both moose and a ptarmigan with the latter.

What did he see in civilization that he liked better than anything back in his primitive home 1,600 miles from here?

"Nothing," he said. "I want to go home."

there is now a scarcity of fishers and martens.

His summers are filled with his guiding chores for the Arctic Lodge, and he's an unerring fellow, too, according to Lockhart. Predominant fish of the region are the Arctic grayling, now almost gone from American waters; lake trout; the hybrid landlocked salmon-trout, walleyes; whitefish and 20- to 30-pound Great Northern Pike.

Life there is complicated enough for John Bird. He will have none of civilization's jangling telephones; none of the honking horns; none of the roaring engines of truck and train; none of the crowds of people staring into his tawny, inscrutable face.

First Tennessee A&I Student Gets West Point Appointment

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The first Tennessee A&I student ever to be appointed to the U.S. Military Academy is scheduled to report to West Point July 5.

The student, Will Terry Moore, 19, a Negro, received his appointment after he was nominated as a second alternate by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

Good, Solid Citizen'

His annual income ranges to about $2,000 per year and he is, according to his affectionate companion, "a good, solid citizen."

He spends his winters — cold ones, too, which dip to 40 below zero — on his traplines and at ice fishing through eight feet of snow and ice. He takes mink, otter, beaver and other north-land animals in his traps, but

Great Civil War Film to Make Return Trip

Record-Breaking
'Gone With Wind'
Coming to Viking

"Gone With the Wind," which opens Tuesday at the Viking Theater, has broken every box office record in motion picture history since it was made 22 years ago.

The David O. Selznick production is being released again by MGM in tribute to the centennial of the Civil War. The film has played in practically every city in the world, including those behind the Iron Curtain. Its gross film rentals total $59 million, with approximately $35 million from the United States and Canada and the rest from overseas. The movie has been shown somewhere every day since it was released in 1939. That year it won a then unprecedented 10 Academy Awards, including the Thelberg Award for the most consistent high quality of production.

Helped Its Actors
The late Clark Gable became Hollywood's "king" as a result of his portrayal of Rhett Butler. Although he had won an Academy Award in 1934 for his acting in "It Happened One Night," it was his spectacular work in the Civil War film that etched his tremendous popularity with movie fans the world over. The picture also proved a turning point in the careers of Leslie Howard, Brushy who plays the role of Ashley Wilkes; of St. Louis, and romp horse with Olivia de Havilland, who plays Melanie Hamilton, and Vivien Leigh, whose portrayal of Scarlett O'Hara won an Oscar as the best actress of 1939.

Longest Runs
"Gone With the Wind" was released in England during the Battle of Britain and moviegoers, queuing up at the box office, ignoring Nazi bombs. It missed playing four straight years by only seven weeks in two London theaters. The movie's longest continuous run was in Paris, where it played for three years and 11 months.

Concurrently with the success of the film has been the success of Margaret Mitchell's novel. The original hard-cover edition consisted of 1,037 pages. It sold 50,000 copies the first day it was issued, shattering all fiction records. It won the Pulitzer Prize and was declared the most distinguished novel of the year by the American Booksellers Association. Since first issued, it has had over 70 printings and has been translated into 21 languages. The paperback edition, running 862 pages, was first issued in 1954. It has since had two other printings with the most recent, in early 1960, selling 706,199 copies. Counting all editions, it is estimated that the book has sold more than 6,000,000 copies in this country and some 10,000,000 in all nations.

The Memorable Screen version of Margaret Mitchell's stirring story of the Civil War era, "Gone With the Wind," opens Tuesday at the Viking Theater. In this scene are the three principal actors of the movie, Olivia de Havilland, left, as Melanie, Vivien Leigh in the role of the tempestuous Scarlett O'Hara and Clark Gable as Rhett Butler, the role that made him Hollywood's top actor. First shown 22 years ago, the movie won 10 Academy Awards.

Dick Weber Captures All-American Classic, Pockets $3,000 Check

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The professional bowling tour moved on to Shreveport today with Dick Weber, the St. Louis St. Louis man, flashing a check for $3,000—the reward for winning the $21,900 All-American Classic.

Weber came from behind in the last games to pass Al Savas, also of St. Louis, and romp home with an average of 231.9 Sunday night. Ray Bluth and Dick Hoover, others of the St. Louis bowling parade, finished second and third respectively and won $2,200 and $1,600.

It played for three years and 11 months. Concurrently with the success of the film has been the success of Margaret Mitchell's novel. The original hard-cover edition consisted of 1,037 pages. Circus Headaches

Finding Elephant Feed Worse Than Wages

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody's task of buying 550 pounds of likes to watch an elephant eat horse meat daily for the lions. Everybody, that is, except and tigers.

Rudy Bundy, As treasurer of the Ringling Bros., Barnum and year, he remarked, "Sometimes Bailey Circus, he'd like to see some elephants go on a voluntary diet—the ones he buys hay for. "We have 20 elephants and they eat 30 bales of hay a day—plus all the free peanuts they can mooch. They eat all the time," he said.

"Elephants even eat at night, while they're standing up sound asleep. They never quit eating." Different Problems
The treasurer of "The Greatest Show on Earth" has problems strikingly different from the financial officers of most business corporations.

Finding 30 bales of hay a day, on the road for the elephants is easy, Bundy said, compared to the big problem is that we've never been able to train the animals to stop eating when we're not showing," Bundy said. "But at that the animals are less of a worry than the people. They aren't as temperamental."

Few Circuses
Bundy, a cheerful, blue-eyed man of 54, is a close friend of circus president John Ringling, particularly in network his present post after more than 30 years as a clarinet player and Frederick, whose specialty is the North. He worked his way up to United Nations, remains dean of touring band leader. He played the women broadcasters and, far at the old Palace Theater here and away, tops in the field, and says he feels he did as CBS last summer, gave its Nam-much as anybody to kill vaudeville Hanschman the unprecedented ville.

(for a female) title of correspondent, and occasionally allows her I had was a commercial course to cover a non-woman's angle I took in high school," he said. "The rest of it I had to learn story. Now ABC has also added a full-time woman reporter-talker to its staff. She is Lisa Howard, a former circus in America. Now there are only a dozen of any real size.

Women Newscasters
Rare in Television
Television's rare bird, even after all these years of suffrage, remains the woman news commentator, particularly in network his present post after more than 30 years as a clarinet player and Frederick, whose specialty is the North. He worked his way up to United Nations, remains dean of touring band leader. He played the women broadcasters and, far at the old Palace Theater here and away, tops in the field, and says he feels he did as CBS last summer, gave its Nam-much as anybody to kill vaudeville Hanschman the unprecedented ville.

Local Schools Can Now Issue 2-Year Degrees

Vocational Head
Expects Wide Use
Of New State Law

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—The head of the state department of vocational and adult education expects immediate and widespread use of the new law which permits local schools of vocational education to grant degrees certifying the completion of two year study courses of approved patterns.

D. L. Greiber, director of the state board of vocational education, said the schools are gratified that the legislature has recognized the changing character and role of the vocational education program in the total educational program of the state.

The idea of "terminal" courses of post-high school education is growing rapidly in the schools, he said, and at least half a dozen of the schools in the larger cities are expected to arrange for the use of the degree immediately.

Greiber explained that there are safeguards against the promiscuous granting of the new "associate degrees." Degree-qualifying courses, he said, must withstand the test of approval by the state department.

In some circles the degree granting privilege given to the local schools is accepted as a sign of the evolution of the schools toward an identity as the community junior colleges that have grown up in other states. As the demand for such junior college service grows in Wisconsin, the vocational schools are likely to be adapted to serve that function.

Further evidence of such a trend is provided in another recent act of the legislature putting the county teachers colleges, also providing two year courses, under the jurisdiction of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, and the provision of substantially higher state aids for the vocational schools in the current state budget.

Live Life Of Religion To Help Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — Live the simple life—as do the Seventh-Day Adventists — and your chances are much better for a healthier heart, says a medical professor.

The American College of Cardiology heard the findings of Dr. Richard Walden, assistant professor of preventive medicine at the College of Medical Evangelists, an Adventist institution in Loma Linda, Calif.

In a comparative study, Walden said, Adventist menfolk suffered 40 per cent fewer diseases heart arteries than the general public. And their blood cholesterol, he added, was 15 per cent lower than the other groups — selected at random in New York and Philadelphia.

Not only do Adventists refuse all tobacco, alcohol or coffee, Walden noted, but about half the sect's 1.6 million members are strict vegetarians.

Cholesterol is the substance believed to play an important part in causing coronary heart disease.

Suggestion Pays Off For Two IBM Workers

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—A piece of paper dropped into the company's suggestion box has brought $36,031 for two employees.

The International Business Machines Corp. saved $573,549 on the suggestion in the past year. The award to two IBM technicians—Charles G. Glancey, 33, and Lawrence R. Livigni, 41 — was announced this week.

The money given them represents 15 per cent of what the company has saved on their suggestion of a short cut in the design for one of the big IBM data processing machines.

Interest Mounts on Nelson's Choice for University Regent

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MADISON — Political interest is building up in the vacancy on the University of Wisconsin board of regents resulting from the expiration of the term of Oscar Rennebohm, the former Republican governor and Madison drug store chain proprietor.

The governor's probable choice has not yet been hinted at, but it is presumed that he will replace Rennebohm with a Madison resident. The former governor has told friends that he has not expected reappointment to the non-salaried position he was given by Republican Gov. Walter J. Kohler, his own successor in the executive office, 10 years ago.

A new attack by the Republicans on Gov. Nelson's favorite state department of administration is being planned in the legislature. Sen. John Potter of Wood County is drafting a bill, expected to get wide support, that would divorce the state bureau of personnel from the administration department.

Potter and some of his political associates will argue that the personnel office, more than any other state service, should be "insulated" from the pressures of party politics and that such insulation is now assured because the administration department is directly under the thumb of the governor.

Among the typically numerous property tax exemptions suggested in the current legislature is a novelty proposal from Sen. Robert Dean of Wausau. He would authorize local tax exemptions for all structures or portions thereof that are designated as human shelters against nuclear attack, and those that are provided for the protection of records from such attack.

Prospects are bleak for the approval of an appropriation for construction of a second new infirmary at the state home for veterans at King, in Waupaca home village to state office. He and Trumpet offered a salary of probably approve a fund for Lake chiropractor, who was named to a second six-year term on the state board of examiners in commitment for a later construction.

Martin G. Glaeser, the retired University of Wisconsin teacher of economics who was given a two-year term on the public service commission two years ago by Gov. Nelson is said by his friends as "butterfly disappointed" by the governor's decision to replace him.

Gov. Nelson is a native of Clear Lake, a fact that is widely known among the thousands of persons who have heard his fertile store advertised for a tall ex-debutante—at least 5 feet 9 inches—to grace his saloon.

They Agree—Money Doesn't Always Bring Happiness

BALTIMORE (AP)—The postman not only rang twice, he rang three times, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Scott hope he doesn't ring again.

In March the Scotts received a refund check from the Internal Revenue Service for $304.71. On April 10 they received another. Realizing an error had been made, they returned it. Unfortunately, it somehow got torn, and the IRS sent them another check to "replace the one which was mutilated." Again it was returned. Then came a bill for $306.06. The IRS had discovered the duplication and the added amount was for interest.

Little Change In Congo's Capital City

Belgian Monuments
Remain, Leopoldville
Rather Grimly Gay

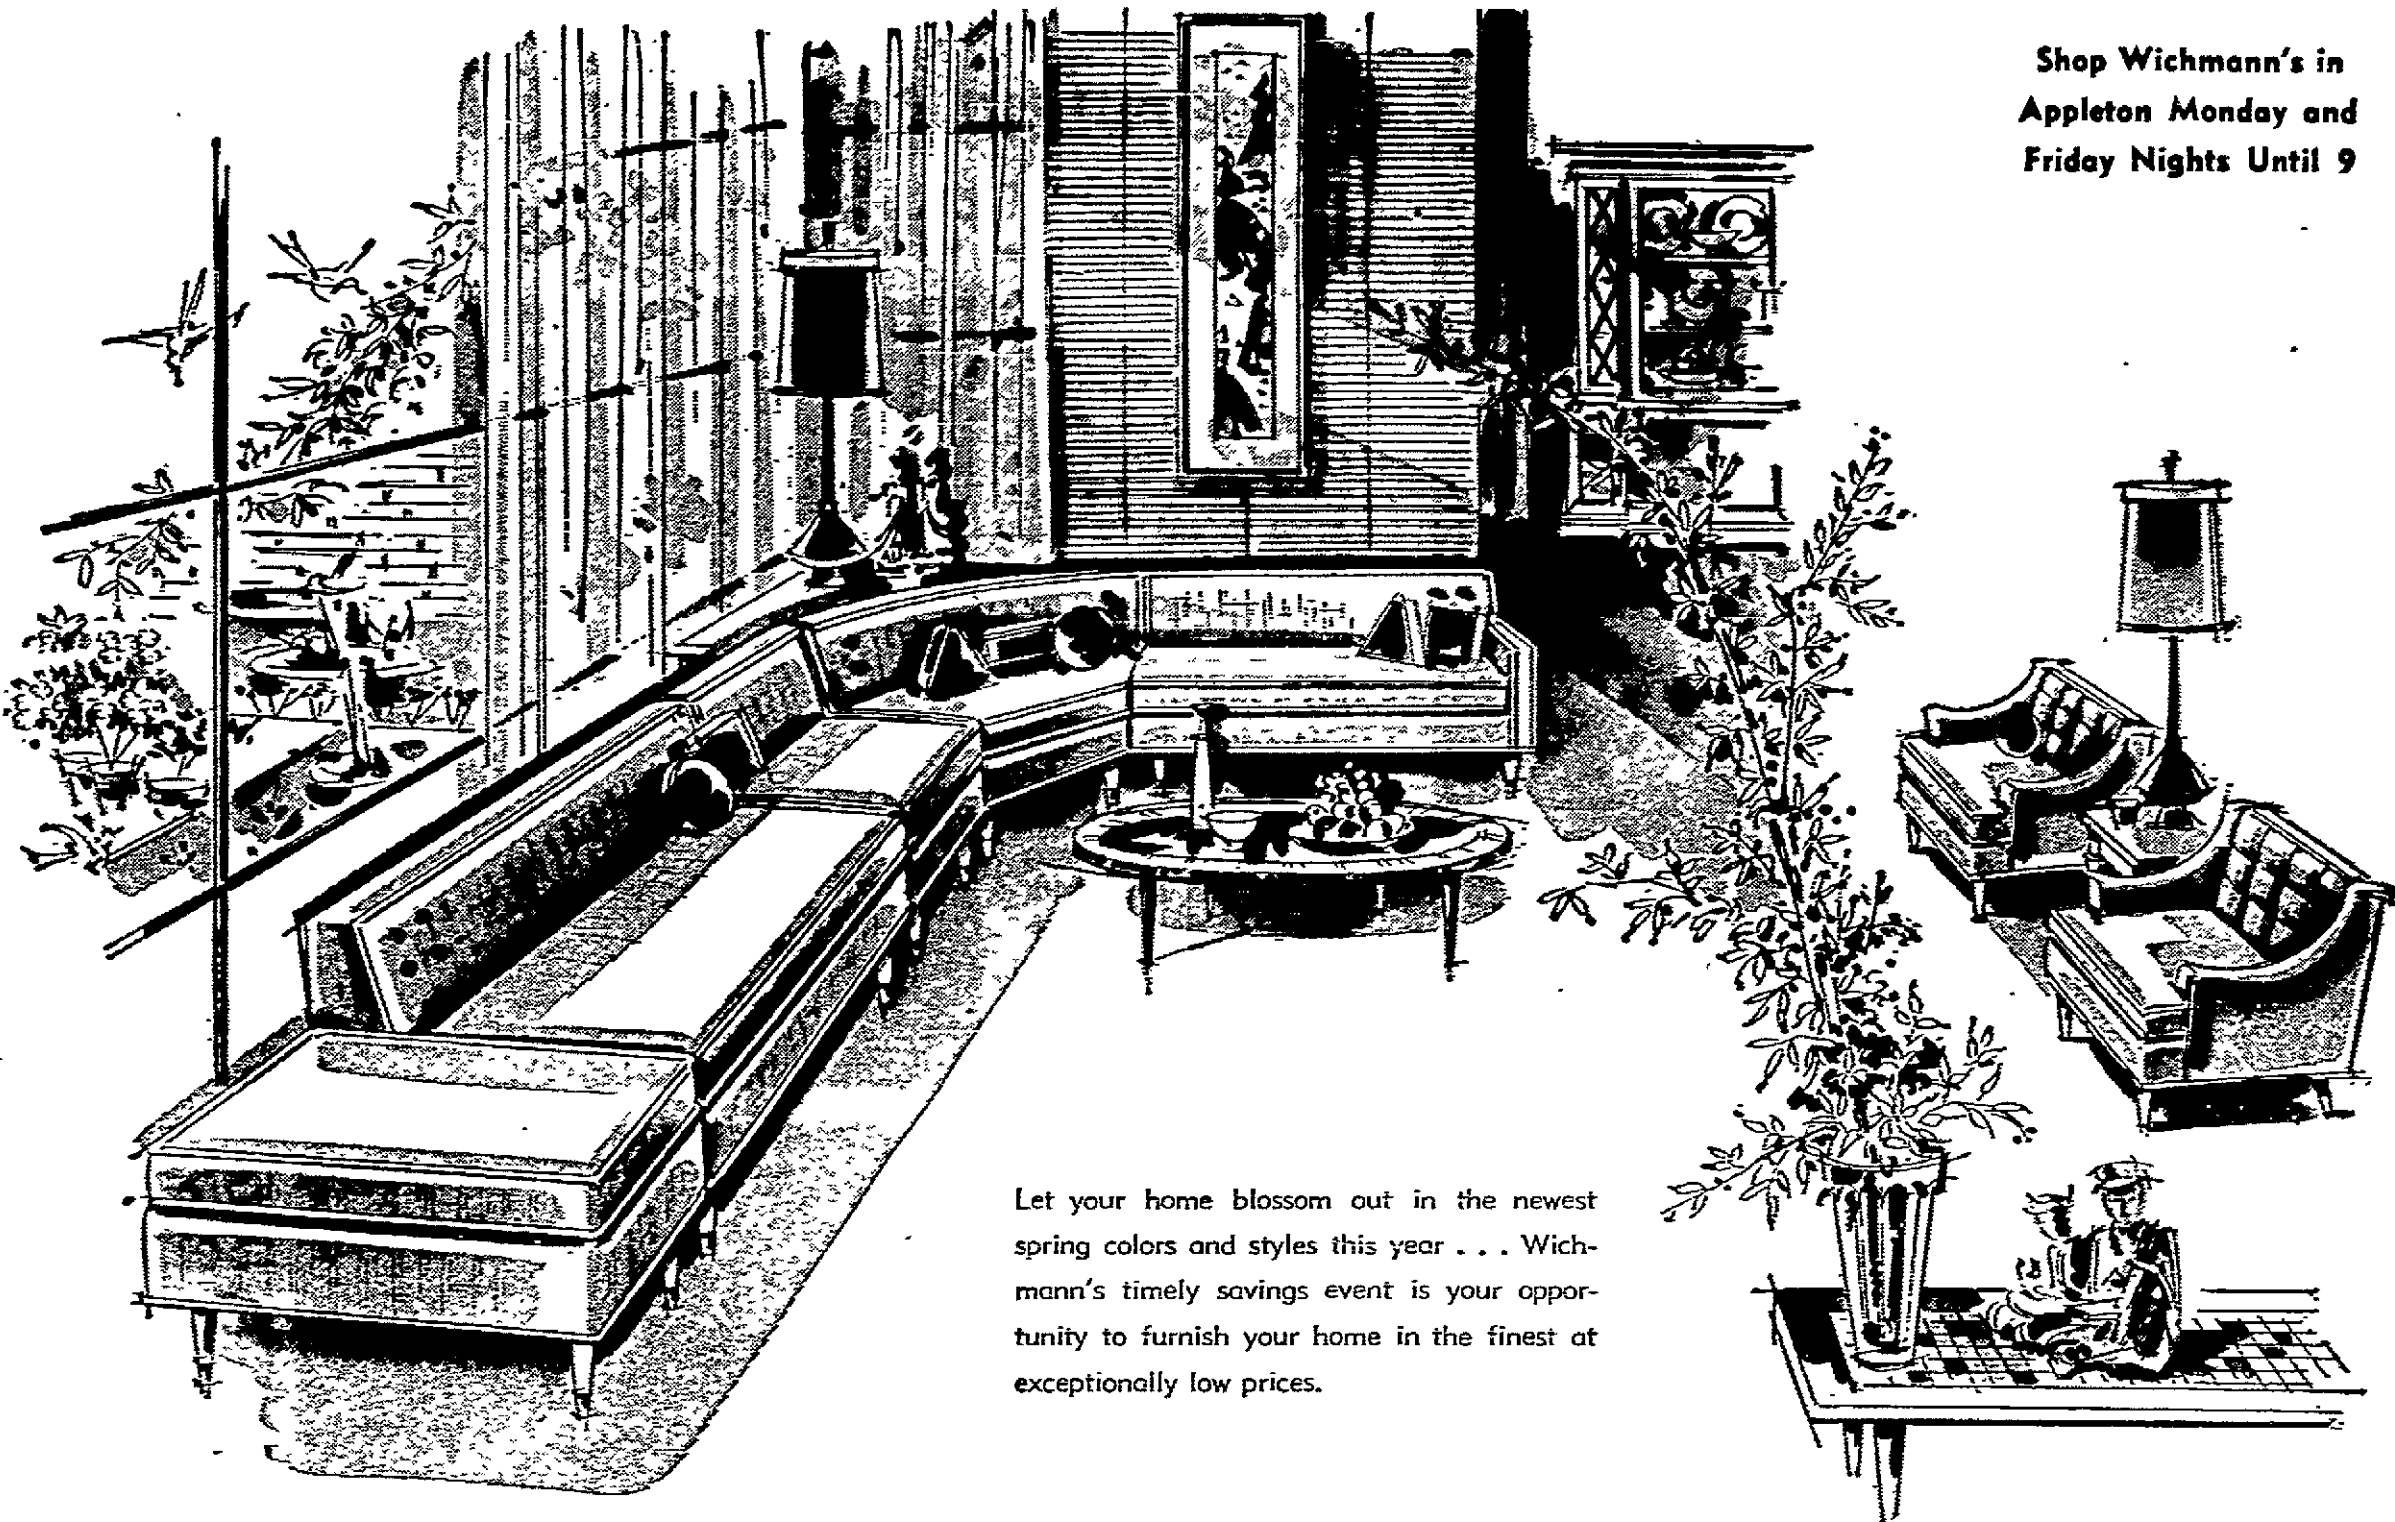

By LYNN HEINZERLING
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—They still tend the monuments to the Belgian kings in Leopoldville, regularly and expertly.
King Albert still stands on his huge memorial at the end of Boulevard Albert. That old imperialist Leopold II sits astride his horse in the square outside parliament.
The grass around them is brilliantly green and freshly cut. Flower beds are tenderly attended. You get the feeling in this improbable city that if King Baudouin arrived tomorrow he would be cheered in the streets.
Not Much Change
The Congo has been free for nearly 10 months now, but the capital city still looks much as it did before the cry of independence was seriously raised.
Boulevard Albert is somewhat grimly gay with its sidewalk cafes and striped umbrellas. The Belgian supermarkets still operate with shrinking stocks of goods.
There are no statistics, but perhaps 10,000 Belgians have moved back into their villas and flats in Leopoldville, some hoping to revive their old businesses. There were about 20,000 here in the days before independence, mutinous troops and the late Premier Patrice Lumumba persuaded most of them to leave.
The Belgian Embassy has been empty since that day last August when the Belgian flag was hauled down to the jeers of a small mob of Congolese. But it is expected that relations soon will be restored.
Not many Belgians have moved back to their old posts in the interior.
Tribal warriors still make life in many regions precarious.
Albert Kalonji, once the professional leader of a dissident wing of Lumumba's party, has restored a kingdom in South Kasai to cement his Baluba tribal support.
A diplomat recently returned from Equator Province said it's "quietly sinking into the bush." Many of its rich plantations have been abandoned.
The Congo badly needs a steady hand and the United Nations, with a limited budget, is making what appears to be a devoted effort. But the Congo also needs thousands of technicians and skilled workers who know this country and can get it back on its feet.
Teaching Congolese
Dr. Sture Linner, a Swedish businessman who heads the U. N. civil administration in the Congo, is trying to set up cram courses to teach Congolese how to handle some of their own affairs. He hopes to send many of them abroad to study.
One difficulty with U. N. technical assistance experts is that they sign contracts for nine months or a year and then leave. What is needed at the present are Belgian or French-speaking technicians who are prepared to stay indefinitely and provide some continuity.
There is much unemployment, but somehow with U. N. help everybody gets something to eat. There are more people than usual sleeping under the palm trees.
Sombodie keeps the grass trimmed at the Soviet Embassy, vacated last September when a 29-year-old army colonel, Joseph Mobutu, ordered foreign Communists out of the country within 48 hours.
The Czechs are not so fortunate. The weeds are growing thickly around their shuttered embassy. The twisted frame of an old automobile rusts quietly on the front lawn.

TLE CHUTE NEENAH

Crowd Thoroughly Entertained By Antics of Chicago Quartet

BY E. L. BISELX
Post-Crescent News Editor

A thoroughly entertained capacity house of barbershop harmony devotees left Appleton High School auditorium Saturday night still laughing at the antics of the Mid-States Four of Chicago, the beloved clowns of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

But the best sounds came from the throats of Appleton's own Astro-Notes, who two weeks ago won the right to represent the Land of Lakes District in the international contest at Philadelphia in June, and the Four Renegades of Chicago, also international finalists.

The Appleton chapter's chorus, directed by Roland Tonnell, opened the show with the deep, rolling chords that can come only from a good barbershop chorus. And this one proved it is good. There are many more voices in it this year which improves the tonal quality. The chorus, through long hours of practice, has developed an accuracy and precision rarely heard from an amateur group.

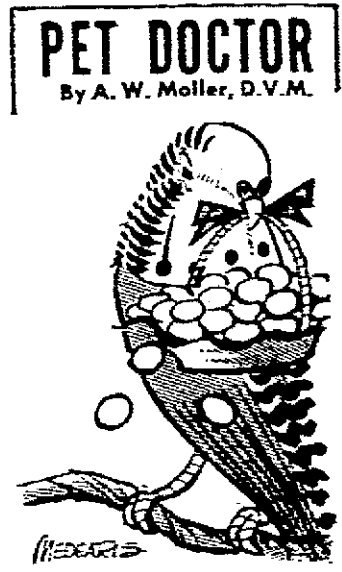

Title Contenders

A year ago in May we said the Astro-Notes would become title contenders and now they have indeed. They are in the competition for the top place in barbershop, the international title. These four, Donald Balke, tenor, Roger Kirkeide, lead, Roland Tonnell, bass, and Edward Boehm, baritone, are on their way. Among their songs Saturday were "I'm A-comin' Courtin' Corabelle." "If You

Were the Only Girl in the World," and the nostalgic, "I Want A Girl."

The Mid-States do not pretend to sing the sweet, ringing harmony of which they are capable but instead have gone all out for corn and comedy. The streaming tears of mirth on the faces of many in the audience were mute testimony that they succeeded. Forrest Haynes, the guitar-playing baritone, surpassed even his own past performances of hilarious pantomime. After the show, Bob Mack, the tenor, said: "We didn't even know what he was going to do next and I don't think he did."

The Choral Belles, Appleton, second place winners in the Sweet Adelines contest, filled in for a quartet which cancelled and

Q. We have a parakeet about two years old. To date she has laid 112 eggs. Have tried to mate her without success. Is there anything I can do to stop the egg laying? Erma Smith, St. Petersburg, Fla.

A. It seems that your parakeet is too busy laying eggs to bother with a mate. This is unnatural. The production of that many eggs within two years definitely shows an over activity of the ovaries. The cycle of reproduction is governed by a number of interacting hormones. If she is deficient in one of them, the one that promotes the desire to mate, it could increase the output of the hormone stimulating egg production. As all hormones are prescription items, you will have to check with your veterinarian to correct this condition. For the general physical well-being of your parakeet, if for no other reason, you will want the problem remedied.

Managing Editors Elect State AP President

LAC DU FLAMBEAU (AP) — Oliver Williams, managing editor of the Wisconsin Rapids Tribune, is the new president of the Wisconsin Associated Press Association which elected officers Saturday during its annual spring meeting.

Arville Schaleben, managing editor of the Milwaukee Journal, was named as vice-president, replacing Williams who succeeded Lawrence Fitzpatrick, managing editor of the Wisconsin State Journal at Madison as president.

A report on AP operations in Wisconsin was presented by Austin Bealmeier, chief of bureau in Milwaukee. Legislative coverage was discussed by Harvey Breuerscher, AP correspondent at Madison.

Paul McMahon, travel editor of the Milwaukee Journal, said a million foreign tourists are expected in the United States this year. He said the figure was about three and one-half times as many as visited in 1950.

The association members also heard William L. Beale Jr., chief of the AP bureau in Washington. He said that since President Kennedy had suggested a program of self-censorship for the American press there had been a noticeable tightening of military news from the Pentagon.

Nuns Like Traditional Style; Adopt New Fabrics

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite many suggestions for major changes in the attire of Roman Catholic nuns, very few have been made in recent years.

However, there have been many minor alterations, along with shifts to newer type fabrics.

This report is presented in the current issue of America, national Catholic weekly review, a magazine published in Philadelphia. Its article was written by Sister Fides, an English teacher at the College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, Minn.

Statement by Pope

Sister Fides said a wide discussion—plus much controversy—followed a 1951 address by Pope Pius XII. He said that, while the religious apparel must always express consecration to Christ, it also should be "appropriate and correspond to the needs of hygiene."

Wrote Sister Fides:
"Soon after this address, a

Twice colorful Brush-Up

If one new paint color makes dreary old furniture sparkle, even more fascinating effects may come of using two. The curved front drawer chest liberated from the attic, for example—delicate pastel all over will restore it to use, but trim details accented in a deeper shade of the same color give it so much more of the look of professional finishing. White dresses up with chalky blue, pink, violet, green or yellow, and even more so with metallic gold.

The plainest box-like chest is an eye-catcher with drawers in two colors, especially if one color is used in two shades — the chest in the sketch combines the white with two shades of pink. Chairs in the style sketched at most ask for a second color for accent, and the open top cabinet that should be painted to match wall gets a lift from contrasting lining. A small table that needs new top finish might take it in color and keep its legs in natural wood finish. And a surprise will bright color for the legs of an upholstered chair may put the chair in two important scheme colors instead of one.

Our Children

Parents Cannot 'Choose' Youngsters

BY ANGELO PATRI

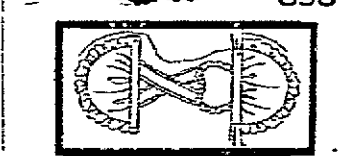

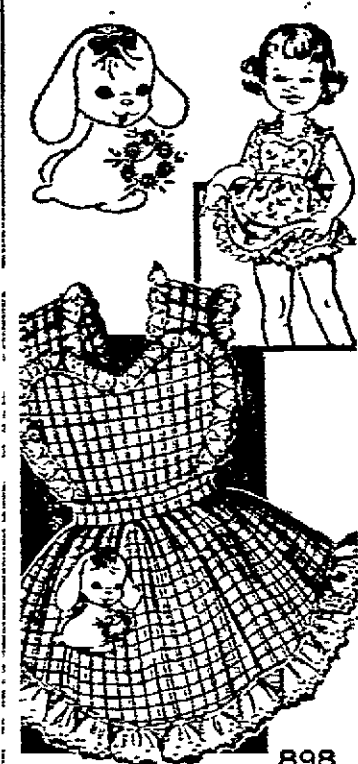

Many times the trouble parents desire if they gave him a chance, to be himself, to show and prove himself. But no. What some parents want is a nice boy, one who never makes a sound in the house, never disturbs the quiet with loud remarks, of opposition, never musses up the rooms, or the family's plans. A boy never is rude but always polite, orderly, just plain good. Fine, but little boys do not come that way. They come the other way.

So do little girls. They are not a bit cooperative at times. They want candy when their mothers say it isn't good for them. They want that pretty dress, not that one without the trimmings. They want to play with the girl their mothers think rather a step beneath them. And then the boys come along and they choose the wrong ones—wrong for their parents who look ahead to the future and housing and cars and incomes.

So we have friction between children and parents which often endures until they leave home on their own. Such parents want the child they envisioned want "everything for him," while the child only wants what is his by right of inheritance, achievement, abilities and tastes. He wants only what his years his stage of growth, his inherent desires for a full life, at each stage of his growth demand. In short, he wants to be himself from babyhood on. If he is allowed that right, he is more than likely to be what his parents would have him be, a fine human being, useful, happy, health and, of course, successful. If they had only known how to cultivate the idea.

It is best to study the particular child to learn, if possible, what and who he is at each stage of his growth. A boy is a boy, a girl is a girl—each passes through uneasy stages of growth to arrive at his maturity. He will arrive in better form if his loving family will keep step with him all the way, guiding, leading, protecting and allowing him the degree of freedom he evinces he can take safely. Not easy, but most rewarding.

Area Served Lies Between Appleton, Menasha Cities

MENASHA — A mission church to serve the area between Appleton and Menasha will be established by the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church of America.

Dr. Dwight Shelhart, Oshkosh, synod mission supervisor, will work with the Rev. Robert C. Jacobson, pastor of St. Timothy Lutheran Church, Menasha, and the Rev. I. B. Kindem, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Appleton.

Purchase of land for a church has been authorized by the Wisconsin Commission on Missions. The mission church mainly would serve residents of the Town of Menasha.

Parish boundaries tentatively are the Fox River on the west and north, including some of the city of Appleton, Oneida Street on the east and a line parallel to and one mile north of Seventh Street, Menasha.

Pastor Jacobson will discuss the project Tuesday with the board of mission supervisors.

A mission organizer, also authorized by the mission board, probably will not be called until the necessary land is purchased.

Stolen Auto Driver Admits School Entry

Complaints Being Prepared on Long Series of Thefts

A young driver of a stolen car, who was caught Thursday admitted today that he burglarized Appleton Senior High School.

James G. Roberts, 18, 908 W. Grant St., had some keys reported taken from the high school in his possession when police captured him on foot after an automobile chase. The youth told Appleton police that he broke into the school Tuesday night.

Roberts said he broke the office door at the high school and stole some tools from a cabinet in the woodworking room. A screw driver, a brace and bit and eight keys valued at $12.50, were taken. Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer pointed out to the court that Roberts had also admitted a long series of burglaries in the Appleton area, including Appleton hardware stores. Schaefer said complaints on these charges are being prepared.

Six Appleton and Outagamie County squad cars chased a stolen car driven by Roberts. Roberts drove the car into the ditch, through an electric fence and into a field at the intersection of State 47 and County Trunk S. Police found him hiding at a farm near the abandoned car.

The car, owned by Larry Ullman, 1037 W. Lorain St., was taken from Ullman's home Wednesday night. Police saw Roberts driving it and began their pursuit at 3:36 a.m. Thursday.

Roberts will be sentenced on burglary and a theft June 22. Acting Municipal Judge Stanley A. Staidl ordered a two-week pre-sentence investigation. Meanwhile, Roberts will be in the county jail.

Neenah Girl Still Listed As Critical

NEENAH — Carla M. Bart, 16, 227 E. Doty Ave., Neenah, remains in serious to critical condition at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital today after she was injured in a one-car accident about 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The girl has not regained consciousness. She suffered severe head injuries.

Driver of the car was Francis W. Goetz, 15, 206 Plummer Ave., Neenah. He received a shoulder injury and is in good condition at the hospital.

Winnebago County Police reported Goetz was driving south on a town road, one mile west of U.S. 45 and one mile south of State 150, when he apparently lost control of the car.

The auto skidded 291 feet before going into the ditch on the west side of the road and rolling over.

Thrown from Car Both Goetz and Miss Bart were thrown from the car when county police arrived. Goetz was kneeling next to Miss Bart, who was found 42 feet southeast of the car.

Harold Behm, route 2, Neenah, who lives near the accident scene, said he saw the car going south and that it was not traveling fast at that time. Several sections of barbed wire fence owned by Behm were damaged in the accident.

The car is owned by Goetz's sister, who now lives in Denver, Colo. Police were told he did not have permission to use the car.

Larsen Man Not Hurt When Auto Crashes

OSHKOSH — Ronald Johnson, 25, route 1, Larsen, was not injured but the car he was driving was extensively damaged when it went off State 150 near the County Trunk BB intersection in the Town of Clayton at 2:48 a.m. today.

Johnson said he dropped a cigarette and was reaching down for it when the car went off the shoulder of the road. He said another car was coming so he swung to the side of the road and went into the ditch. The vehicle traveled about 200 feet before hitting a utility pole and breaking it off.

Man Said He Was Trying Fright Plan

Robert French, 39, the man who admitted shooting Mrs. Victoria Hughes May 5, was charged with attempted first degree murder today.

French remains in the hospital recovering from an overdose of barbiturates. He probably will leave the hospital and be arraigned on the attempted murder next week.

After he awoke from an 11-day coma Tuesday, French confessed to Appleton police that he shot Mrs. Hughes through a basement window of her home at 2319 S. Greenview St. and then attempted to kill himself by swallowing handfuls of barbiturates.

Trying to Scare Her French said in a signed statement that he was only trying to scare Mrs. Hughes. French said he had known Mrs. Hughes for about two years. He became angry when Mrs. Hughes told him she didn't want to see him again and set out to shoot her, French stated.

French will be tried in Outagamie County, Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer said. The shooting occurred in Calumet County, but within 100 rods of the Outagamie County line. Under state statutes, he could be tried in either county.

A .33 caliber bullet hit Mrs. Hughes in the right shoulder. She was released from the hospital two days after the shooting. Police found a .33 caliber pistol in the glove compartment of French's car when they arrested him 3½ hours after the shooting at his Appleton apartment.

Reassessment May be Called for in Neenah

Current Rate Third Lowest in State, Mayor Bell Asserts

NEENAH — A reassessment of Neenah may be forthcoming in the near future, Mayor Chester S. Bell indicated today. The mayor noted the last reassessment was done in 1935.

At that time the assessment rate was set at 98.72 per cent of equalized value. During the early years of World War II the rate rose to 99.53 per cent in 1947. With increasing property values the rate has declined steadily to its present level of 96.77 per cent.

The current rate is the third lowest in the state. Only Delavan and Wauwatosa have lower rates and only 11 cities, of 178 reported in Wisconsin Department of Taxation report, have assessment rates under 41 per cent.

The reassessment issue has been brought to the foreground by the pending school reorganization. If a unified district is set up, the city of Neenah's debt limit would be reduced by 75 per cent. Reassessment would be necessary to raise the debt limit to near its present level.

Menasha Church Votes to Build

First Congregational Approves Major Program for Expansion

MENASHA — Members of the First Congregational Church Sunday morning voted to initiate a major building program.

By a margin of 171 to 80, the congregation approved a motion that the church proceed with its expansion program, as outlined by the long range planning committee.

Following the initial vote, the congregation approved by a standing vote a motion that the new church be located on another site, subject to late approval by the membership.

Expansion Needed

Charles Greiner, chairman of the committee, told the congregation, that an expansion program was needed "to provide services needed by families and young people and to help counter the threat posed to our civilization by barbaric forces sweeping out of the East."

No indication was given by Greiner as to the possible site of the new church. The congregation now owns an undeveloped plot of land on Airport Road in the Town of Menasha.

By a voice vote the membership authorized the board of trustees to appoint a building committee to work on details of the project. At the suggestion of Donald Olski, the congregation approved continuation of the long range planning committee with Greiner as chairman.

One of Menasha's oldest congregations, the First Congregational Church observed its centennial in 1951.

The present church building is located at the corner of Broad and Milwaukee Streets in Menasha.

Cost $430,000

Cost of a new church on a different location would be approximately $430,000, according to the McMahon Engineering Co., which has completed preliminary plans and drawings.

No plans have been made for construction of a new parsonage, Greiner said. It is expected that the minister will be given a living allowance and permitted to select his own dwelling.

The Rev. John C. Hanchett, pastor, said the congregation now numbers 331 families, with 265 living in or north of Menasha, and 66 in or south of Neenah. There are 350 youngsters now enrolled in the church school.

Within 10 years, the church expects to have 1,000 members and a church school enrollment of 500, he said.

Appleton Man's Sentence Delayed For Tavern Fracas

OSHKOSH — Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane postponed until June 5 sentencing of Donald Johnson, 21, 1830½ S. Oneida St., Appleton, who last Tuesday admitted malicious destruction of property.

A charge of assault and battery, involving a bartender at the White Swan tavern, Town of Menasha, was amended to disorderly conduct at the request of Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber.

Johnson pleaded to contest and was found guilty. Sentencing on that count also will be June 5.

Johnson was released in custody of his attorney, with the condition he abstain from drinking and that restitution for damage at the tavern and payment of bartender Elmer R. Wiley's medical bills be arranged. Johnson landed on top of Wiley in one of his leaps over the tavern's bar, police were told.

Johnson May 14 jumped over the bar several times, breaking the glassware and throwing a cash register to the floor before fleeing, witnesses said.

About 35 cars were exhibited at Pierce Park during a family picnic and a tour of the city was held later, Kenneth Kemps, who worked on arrangements, said.

Stolen Vehicle Found Damaged

MENASHA — The 1960 auto of Miss Kathleen Coughlin, stolen Friday night from her residence at 709 Carver Lane, was recovered Sunday afternoon at Kimberly — Clark Corp.'s Lakeview mill parking lot.

The speedometer showed about 500 miles of driving and the car had malicious damage. Many small dents had been pounded in it and some glass was broken.

Stolen from the car were two snow tires, one standard tread tire, two wheels, two gallons of white house paint, a jack, a blanket and a stapler, the last evidently used to pound some of the dents in the car.

Miss Coughlin's father, Thomas, received a call from a friend who said he saw the car on the lot. Coughlin informed city police, who requested county police aid in checking the car.

We just retired a secretary of agriculture over whom there was much controversy because of our great overabundance of agricultural products. In Russia several agricultural leaders were retired to Siberia recently, Ahlgren said, because of severe food shortages. In Russia 45 per cent of a worker's pay goes for food where in America less than 10 per cent of a man's pay goes for food. In no other country in the world, he said, is food so cheap or of such high quality.

We sit down to 540 million meals a day, Ahlgren said, and "how many of us wonder what we will eat for breakfast?" "Never in the U.S. since the

Lawrence Says

Cuban Fiasco Unprecedented In History

No Failure if It Had Been Strictly U. S. Operation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — Maybe the less said about the Cuban "invasion" fiasco the better. But when Sen. Gore of Tennessee, Democrat, blames the failure on the joint chiefs of staff and openly urges that they be replaced, then the subject can hardly be ignored.

Lawrence

Perhaps if the British or Canadian parliamentary system were in operation in the United States today, there also would be suggestions that President Kennedy himself be replaced or at least subjected to the customary vote of "confidence" or "no confidence."

It should be noted that Sen. Gore made his comment after listening to a substantial part of the three hours of testimony given to a subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Friday by Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, head of the joint chiefs. Since this testimony was secret, the public has no way of judging whether Sen. Gore's interpretation is justified. Other senators who heard the testimony disagree emphatically with the Tennessee senator's verdict.

Where is the press left in these circumstances, and how, is the country to know the whole truth? For obviously, while Gen. Lemnitzer answered questions frankly and listening senators are convinced he gave them truthful answers, it was obvious to them there were many things that he was not privileged to discuss. Also Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, previously had given the senate committee his explanation of the affair. This, too, was secret, and the press still has no way of judging just who was or was not responsible for what happened in Cuba.

Press Censorship

How then can the public make up its own mind? Recently there have been suggestions from President Kennedy that perhaps there should be censorship of the voluntary kind for the press. But isn't it the duty of the press to tell the people when top-ranking officials in government, including the president himself, have made some serious mistakes? A member of Congress familiar with the facts, but himself not a participant, sums it all up with this remark: "It was a case of cumulative stupidity."

This correspondent would point out, however, that it was a case of an unprecedented nature for which neither the president nor the congress has had occasion heretofore to delegate or fix responsibility. For it was, outwardly at least, an operation carried out by Cubans as participants. Americans acted as advisers. The CIA helped to plan the project. The joint chiefs were asked their opinion beforehand and gave it. The failure wouldn't have occurred if it had been a strictly United States military operation. It came so near success anyway that it is easy now to blame this or that circumstance. And, of course, hindsight is always better than foresight.

Not Fully Explained

One important factor has not been fully explained. An American aircraft carrier was 10 miles away from the landing point. At a crucial moment American air support was needed. It had been promised. When it was called for by the Cubans, it didn't materialize. Was this because of faulty communication between the Cuban expedition and Washington? Was there a lapse of several hours while civilian advisers of the president, who argued against the idea, caused him to hesitate and ultimately to decline to authorize air support?

It's all academic now, but it does seem as if the president might have looked at the plan more penetratingly himself in the first instance. Maybe he relied on the military staff here to pick flaws in it for him, and they didn't feel qualified to pass judgment on what the Cubans were doing and what the CIA was doing. It's a kind of situation that is new to the American government, especially since, on the one hand, it was strictly a Cuban affair and, on the other, it was so much the concern of the United States that it seems tragic the decision wasn't made either to go all-out with air support and everything else or stay out altogether. That's perhaps hindsight, too.

The Real Point

It would be unfortunate to start looking for scapegoats. Significantly, Sen. Morse, chairman of the senate subcommittee which heard Gen. Lemnitzer's testimony, said afterward to reporters that the general had given helpful testimony, and added:

"I have complete confidence in the joint chiefs of staff and their ability to protect the security of the country in connection with any military matter over which they have complete jurisdiction."

Reading between the lines, this is but another way of emphasizing the real point of the controversy—namely, that the Cuban invasion was not a strictly military affair which our own military men planned and executed. It was a mixture of civilian hesitancy—due to a fear of public opinion in Latin America—and forbearance by the military chiefs who were never given full responsibility for the project.

So, after all, maybe the less said about it the better, and maybe President Kennedy, who is studying now, through Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retired, the best way hereafter to carry on such operations in the "cold war," will come up with an answer. For the communists are constantly engaged in plotting such enterprises on their side all over the world, especially inside many a country in Latin America.

A "This Is Your Life" Program was given for the Rev. F. C. Reuter of First English Lutheran Church, Appleton, by the congregation Saturday night. Two sons of the pastor who will retire this summer were present. Looking at the scrapbook the pastor received are, from left, Paul Reuter, Franklin Lakes, N. Former Director of Kimberly-Clark Dies Saturday

NEENAH — Stephen R. Sulp, 57, director of Kimberly-Clark Corp. from 1923 to 1957 died Saturday in San Francisco where he made his home.

Mr. Sulp was chief mill manager of Kimberly-Clark Corp. at the time of his retirement in 1957. He began his industrial career in the company's old Neenah mill and moved into the office as a clerk at the time that all four founders of the company were still active. He was office manager at the Kimberly mill and active in that community's civic life.

He was one of the petitioners for incorporation of Kimberly as a village and he served as its first supervisor to the Outagamie County Board. In 1920, when the Niagara Falls, N. Y. plant was built, Sulp was named manager and he remained there until he was transferred to Kapuskasing, Ont., in 1927. He was recalled to Neenah headquarters in 1929 to become chief mill manager of the company.

Survivors are one son, Stephen Jr., Santa Barbara, Calif., three daughters, Mrs. Alice Klock and Mrs. Dorothy Stulp of Santa Barbara and Miss Josephine Stulp, San Francisco.

Funeral services were held this morning in San Francisco.

Served First English Lutheran Since It Was Mission Chapel

The Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor of First English Lutheran Church for 40 years, will retire this summer.

He announced his retirement as June 1, but will stay in office until his replacement arrives.

This is the first time in the church's 45-year history that it has had to call a pastor. Pastor Reuter was called by the mission board to succeed his former classmate, the Rev. Paul W. Nesper, as pastor of the little frame mission church at Drew and North Streets.

Ohio Native

Pastor Reuter was born on Oct. 2, 1891, in Sandusky, Ohio. He is a graduate of Woodville (Ohio) Normal School, Capital University of Columbus and the Capital University Seminary. He was ordained at Sandusky, Ohio, in 1915, Jr. Santa Barbara, Calif., three daughters, Mrs. Alice Klock and Mrs. Dorothy Stulp of Santa Barbara and Miss Josephine Stulp, San Francisco.

Funeral services were held this morning in San Francisco.

communicants. Now it has 1,150 in the 40 years, Pastor Reuter has baptized 1,179 people, confirmed 1,244 people, married 462 couples and conducted 638 funerals.

The present church was built in 1931-2 on the site of the original chapel. Complete with furnishings, the church and attached parsonage cost $110,000. The education unit was added in 1959 for $190,000.

The pastor also notes the growth of many organizations within the church, designed for special interests and fellowship. Since 1955, the congregation has had an intern — a theological student getting a year of experience before his last year in the seminary — to help the pastor.

Pastor Reuter has held district offices in the American Lutheran Church, including membership on the mission and stewardship committees. He was a regent of Capital University from 1946 to 1956. He was a chaplain for the state guard during World War II, and has been a volunteer chaplain for Lutheran Welfare Society at Riverview Sanatorium for more than 20 years. He has been on the board of Lutheran Home for the Aged, Fond du Lac, since 1940 and served as its president.

He has been active in sports since playing on the conference championship basketball team and the baseball team in college in Appleton. He bowled, played baseball with the industrial league and played volleyball and handball at the YMCA. He likes to golf and fish.

The Reuters have two sons, Paul of Franklin Lakes, N. J., and Dr. Edward of Wayne, Mich., and one daughter, Mrs. Don Somerville of Portland, Ore.

The Rev. and Mrs. Reuter plan to visit the children and to continue to live at 202½ S. Morrison St.

The congregation honored Pastor Reuter at a "This Is Your Life" program Saturday. His two sons, relatives from Ohio, a seminary classmate and the church's first intern were among out-of-town stars in the program. Dr. Theodore Ohlrogge, president of the ALC North Wisconsin District, gave Pastor Reuter a pastor emeritus certificate, and Ted Heinritz, church treasurer, gave him a check from the congregation.

Foxes Win 2 Weekend Tilts, Move Closer to First Place

John Ellen Shuts Out Des Moines

Post-Crescent News Service
DES MOINES, Iowa—John Ellen limited Des Moines to four singles as Fox Cities posted a 7-0 victory here Sunday afternoon.

The success stretched the Foxes' winning streak to five straight—their longest of the young season—and moved them within one-half game of Three-I League-leading Topeka.

Although Ellen yielded only two scratch hits in the first eight innings, he had to struggle for his shutout. He walked six and fell behind in the count against almost every hitter.

"Pho!" Anthony and John Griffin each knocked in three runs for the Foxes. Anthony's third came when he lifted a home run over

Buhl, Haddix Foes Tonight in Opener Of 2-Game Series

Braves Split With Reds to Conclude .500 Road Trip

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves packed up and headed home Sunday after a half and half road trip which came to a close as they split a double-header with the Cincinnati Reds.

During the tour, which took the Braves to the West Coast and then east, they won five of 10 starts but remained in fifth place with a 15 and 15 record for the season and four games out of first place.

Cincinnati won the opener of the twin bill 7-6 by punching over a run in the ninth inning. Milwaukee took the second 3-2 by cutting off a Red rally in the last inning.

The results should have left at least one of the Braves happy. He's one of the newest, rookie catcher Joe Torre.

The big backstop, called up from the American Association farm at Louisville Saturday, banged three hits in his first eight appearances at the plate in the majors. One of his blasts was a long home run in the first game. He also threw out three stealing Reds and had a hand in the play that pinched off the Cincinnati threat in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

In the opener Warren Spahn faced former Brave Joe Jay. The one-time Milwaukee bonus baby looked to have things much his own way as the Red grabbed a run in the second and added four—two of them unearned—in the fourth. Milwaukee also scored in the fourth, on a single by Frank Bolling who stole second, went to third on an infield out and home on Hank Aaron's slow infield roller for a hit. Aaron reached third on Joe Adcock's single and went home as Don Blasingame fumbled Torre's bounce.

Frank Robinson socked his 10th homer in the fifth, but Eddie Mathews clouted his eighth in the sixth. The Braves trailed 6-3 when they went to bat in the ninth. Torre's homer opened the inning and after Roy McMillan got the first walk allowed by Jay, Lee Maye belted his fourth homer to tie the score.

Spahn had left after six innings to be followed by rookie Claude Raymond who gave up only one hit in two innings. Moe Drabowsky was called to the mound in the ninth. After Eddie Kasko singled, pinch-hitting Gus Bell sent him home with a double.

Drabowsky was charged with his second defeat in as many days.

Anthony's Hit Caps 7-6 Victory

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox Cities Foxes completed a sweep of a 3-game series with Burlington Saturday night with a 10-inning 7-6 victory at Goodland Field. All three of the games were of the "sudden death" variety with Jim Liggett playing a prominent part in each of the winning rallies.

Saturday night Liggett punched a single to left to drive in the tying run before "Pho!" Anthony landed the fracas with the same type of liner to left field to score Joe Pulliam.

Liggett hit the long fly ball that was dropped by Burlington's Ed Napoleon and let in the winning marker Friday night and it was Liggett, also, who ended Thursday's affair with a single in the 13th.

Relieves Miller
Joe Puleo, who came on in the sixth inning to relieve John Miller, got credit for his second relief victory in three nights. The little righthander weakened in the top of the tenth, giving up base hits to Felix Pizarro and Ron Brand. An error was sandwiched between the blows and Burlington produced a 1-run lead going into the bottom of the 10th.

John Griffin, who batted for Puleo, led off by drawing a base-on-balls. Pulliam also walked, but Chuck Smiley was called out on strikes, setting the stage for Liggett and Anthony to perform their heroics.

The 18-year-old lefthander, Dave McNally, started for the Foxes but was taken out in favor of John Miller in the third after he had allowed two hits, walked five, hit three batters, and uncorked two wild pitches.

Miller went until two were out in the sixth when Puleo came in. He allowed two hits and two runs. One unearned. Puleo gave up three hits in 1-3 innings and was charged with one unearned run.

Manager Harding Peterson, of Burlington, paraded six pitchers before the fans with Jim Dickson going the longest distance, five innings. Two of the hurlers, John Massey and Ron Spring, didn't stay around very long as combined, they faced only three men. The other hurlers were Roger Irvine, Pete Sala, and Don Killdoo.

Killdoo, a new acquisition of the Burlington club, gave up the deciding hits to Liggett and Anthony.

Both teams scored three runs in the third inning with Burlington's tallies coming on one hit, three walks by McNally, two hit batsmen by McNally, and an error on Joe Pulliam. The Foxes' markers came on hits by Anthony and Sam Kershner after Irvine had walked three batters in a row.

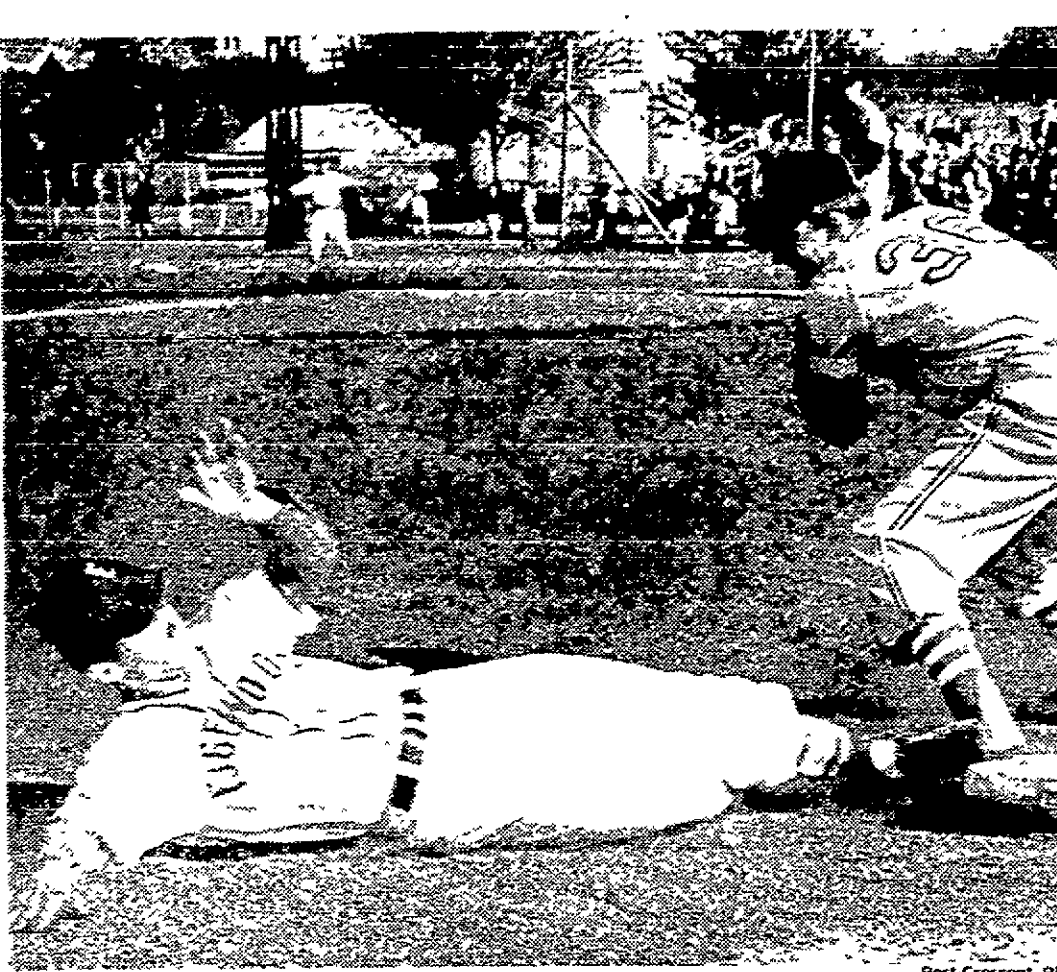

The Foxes scored single runs in the fourth and eighth. Hits by Jim Caldwell, Pulliam, and Smiley accounted for the fourth inning score while hits by Caldwell and Pulliam accounted for the eighth.

Into Fourth
The double loss dropped the Twins into fourth place, behind the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with Baltimore. The Yankees won the opener 4-2, and the Orioles took the second game 3-2.

Washington's new Senators swept a pair from Los Angeles 6-2 and 7-2. Chicago and Boston divided a pair, the White Sox winning the first game in 10 innings 6-5 and the Red Sox the second 4-1.

You have to go a long way back to find a pitcher who has completely victimized a team.

Grant Maintains Hex Over Twins as Indians Capture Doubleheader

League-Leading Tigers Defeat Athletics, 5-3

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even a change in uniforms and a switch to another city haven't helped the Minnesota Twins who were the Washington Senators' last year. They're still mesmerized by the slants of Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

For the 17th time in 19 decisions in the last four seasons, Cookie Lavagetto's charges were beaten by Grant Sunday. They made only three hits against the Indians' righthander. At that, they got one more hit than they did in the opener, against Wynn Hawkins as Cleveland swept the doubleheader 9-0 and 2-0.

Grant added insult to injury, driving in one of Cleveland's two runs off loser Don Lee with a second inning single for his third victory without a defeat.

The double triumph before 30,999 Minnesotans put the Indians alone in second place. 3½ games behind the American League-leading Detroit Tigers, who defeated Kansas City 3-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain washed out the second game which was rescheduled for tonight.

Manitowoc has won the Foxey Knutson and Don Foster capped doubles consolation honors. Before losing to Aspatore, West had defeated South's Phil Sheris (6-2, 7-5) and West's Dave Rand (6-2, 6-1) in the consolation bracket. Wendt lost his championship bracket opener, 6-0, 6-0, to ship bracket opener, 6-0, 6-0, to Blackinger.

AHS' Bob Bleck opened with a 9-7, 6-2 win over East's Jim Peterson but lost to Fondy's Jon Brown, 6-2, 6-4.

Appleton's Ron Mills beat West's Larry Baile in the reserve bracket but lost to North's Pete Margenau.

In championship bracket doubles, AHS' John Kading and Dave Wollwege lost to South's four of his six as did Xavier's Jim Flynn, playing No. 1 singles, won two of his six matches. The Hawks' "Kip" Xavier's Jim Flynn, playing No. 1 singles, won two of his six matches. The Hawks' "Kip" Xavier's Jim Flynn, playing No. 1 singles, won two of his six matches.

Musial Pulls Cardinals Out Of Slump

Dodgers Edge Giants for Third Straight Time

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An open letter to Stan Musial: Hey, Stash, don't you know when to quit? Where do you get off cracking a home run, double and single driving in five runs Sunday to end St. Louis' six-game losing streak with a 6-3 victory over Chicago?

Why don't you act your age? No one would think you're past your 40th birthday the way you've been slamming the ball with eight hits in your last 20 times at bat, boosting your batting average 43 points to a respectable .270.

The only concession you made Sunday was sitting out the second game. Luckily, the Cardinals didn't need your big bat as Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter to win his second straight 3-0.

They said you were all washed up last year when Manager Solly Hemus, one of your greatest admirers, had to bench you. But you bounced back, hitting well over .300 after your return to lead the Cards to a surprising third place finish.

Bedroom Slippers
They said the same thing only a week ago when your average shrunk to .222 but you double-crossed them again. Come on now, Stash old boy. Don't you know that old codgers like you are supposed to be home in bedroom slippers reading your old press clippings?

Anyway, Stan, thanks to you, the Cards retained sixth place. A

Carl Mays, the old Red Sox and Yankee submarine pitcher of four decades ago, once defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 23 times in succession and Pete Donohue, the old Cincinnati right-hander, once whipped the Phillies 20 straight times.

The five hits made by Minnesota were only two more than the fewest made by an American League club in a doubleheader. The Indians collected 23 in the twin bill, six by Johnny Temple, who took over the league's batting lead with .360. The only thing Minnesota fans had to cheer about was Lennie Green, who hit safely in each game to extend his hitting streak through 16 games.

Steve Boros, rookie third baseman, drove in four Detroit runs with a single, double and home run to help Lary win his seventh game in eight decisions. Kansas City southpaw Bud Daley lost his fifth.

Ford Wins Fifth
Whitney Ford, helped by Roger Maris' fourth home run in as many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against the Baltimore. Steve Barber, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee receiver John Blanchard dropped Gene Stephens' two-out four pop. Art Schwall, a 23-year-old, 6-6 right-hander summoned from Seattle, made his major league debut a winning one as he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 triumph over the White Sox. Gary Geiger's two-run homer and a couple of sparkling catches featured the Red Sox victory. The White Sox won the opener on Jim Landis' two-run home in the 10th inning. Washington jumped from eighth to sixth with its double triumph over Los Angeles. Willie Tasby's two-run double broke a 2-2 tie in the opener and Chuck Hinton drove in four runs in the second game with two singles and his first major league home run. Dale Long, Billy Klaus and Tasby homered for the Senators in the second game. Right-hander Bennie Daniels and left-hander Hal Woodeshick posted the victories.

Badger '9' Splits Final Twin Bill

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin split a doubleheader with Ohio State Saturday and wrapped up its Big Ten season with a sixth place finish on a record of five victories and nine losses. Ohio State won the opening game 8-5, scoring six unearned runs as the Badgers committed eight errors. Wisconsin took the finale 3-2 on the five-hit pitching of Phil Ammaris' fourth home run in as many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against the Baltimore. Steve Barber, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee re-

Burlington scored one in the fifth on a single by Don Nipp, after Tom Rinks had walked, and another in the sixth on single by Ed Napoleon, after a walk, a stolen base, and an error.

FOX TALES: Jim Liggett let loose with what was probably the best throw from the outfield this season in the top of the tenth when he got Don Nipp trying to go from first to third on a single by Felix Pizarro. Felix, incidentally, is a cousin of Juan Pizarro, the former Brave lefty. Dave Garcia, San Francisco Giant scout, was in the stands for the game. Allan Egler, Milwaukee Brave scout was also on hand.

Discuss De-Emphasis Of Basketball at North Carolina Schools

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Developments in the widening basketball game-fixing scandal were expected here today on two fronts — academic and legal. The consolidated University of North Carolina trustees were scheduled to meet to discuss a possible sports de-emphasis plan involving the University at Chapel Hill and N.C. State at Raleigh. Since the scandal first broke, five players—three from State and two from North Carolina—have become involved. District solicitor Lester V. Chalmers, recently returned from conferences with New York authorities, said he was studying possible legislation aimed at clamping down on gambling in North Carolina.

Now Skelly, who sells gasoline, brings you a new Regular gasoline that can help you cut gasoline costs...just by driving:

Your carburetor is designed to mix gasoline with air so that it will burn in your engine. The throttle, which is located in the throat, or "windpipe," of the carburetor controls the amount of air your engine "breathes." It works somewhat like a damper in a stovepipe.

At slow speeds, or when your engine is idling, the throttle allows only a small amount of air to flow into the engine—and, of course, only a small amount of gasoline.

But when dirty deposits build up in your carburetor's throat, your engine can't get all the air it needs to breathe right when the throttle is closed. It begins to idle "rough." It may die frequently in traffic or at stop signs. This wastes gasoline.

Needed: More Air . . .

The answer is to restore the proper fuel-air balance. But if you reset the throttle to let in more air, you also let in more gasoline. The thing to do is to get your carburetor clean, so that it can breathe all the air it wants without using extra gasoline.

You can pay from $8.50 to $25 to have this done—or you can do it yourself, at no extra cost, just by driving. How? Easy:

"Unglue" That Dirt:

If your car uses regular gasoline, switch to Skelly Regular with detergent action KT-3, the special new formulation that "unglues" dirty deposits from metal carburetor parts. In actual Skelly tests, KT-3 outperformed nearly 40 additives now being offered. And, even though KT-3 costs Skelly extra to make and inject into Skelly Regular Gasoline at terminal points all around the country, you pay nothing extra to get KT-3.

So try it. See your Skelly dealer. Get Skelly Regular Gasoline with KT-3. Clean your carburetor just by driving, to get more miles per gallon.

New API Oil Change Recommendations:
• Every 30 days in winter • Every 60 days in summer • Never to exceed 2,000 miles. Skelly endorses these recommendations.

Drive your carburetor clean . . . burn more free air, with

Freeman Hails U. S. Farm Productivity

Declares It Gives Nation Advantage During Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman told congress today high farm productivity gives the United States an advantage in the cold war which this nation must exploit to the fullest in helping others.

To do this, he said, congress will have to extend the food for peace program and provide ample funds.

At a hearing of the House Agriculture Committee, Freeman called for enactment of such legislation as a part of the administration's omnibus farm bill. He said this would permit "sound and effective use of the nation's abundance through a long-term, aggressive and positive program in the interest of peace and freedom."

Supplies Available
"The five-year extension will give notice that the United States is prepared to give greater assurance of a continuing supply of agricultural commodities needed by emerging nations," Freeman said.

The legislation, he said, would help formulate effective long-range programs for bringing farm income to desired levels and balancing production with needs. He added:

"This is why our two goals—the goal of more effective use of food and fiber for economic aid abroad, and the goal of an improved farm economy at home—are so closely tied together that neither can achieve maximum results unless they are considered together."

Under this program, the United States sells farm products to friendly foreign countries for their own currencies, part of which is used to help economic development in those countries.

Senate Delays Final Action on State Budget

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate temporarily delayed final action today on the $495.5 million state budget to accept some new legislative proposals.

Included was a bill that would give the Legislature the authority to raise salaries of the State Supreme Court justices.

Sponsored by five Republican and five Democratic senators, the bill would boost the earnings of the chief justice from $18,000 a year to $23,000. Associate justices would receive $22,500 instead of $17,500.

In April voters turned down a referendum question that would have permitted the Legislature to boost the salaries of judges and any state official serving a term of more than six years.

Sponsors of the Supreme Court pay boost described the rejection as the "moving cause" for their bill's introduction.

Circuit Court judges in the state now receive salaries as high as $20,000 a year and the salary "inadequacies of the Supreme Court justices will, unless immediately adjusted, discourage interest in the state's highest judicial positions," the sponsors said in a statement.

The pay increase would become effective July 8.

Funeral Wednesday For Oshkosh Boy Who Drowned Saturday
OSHKOSH—Funeral services for Stephan Heiling, 13, who drowned Saturday near Wisconsin Dells while on a school safety patrol picnic, will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. John Catholic Church, Oshkosh.

His body was recovered from the Wisconsin River by the Adams county rescue boat shortly before noon Sunday.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heiling, 427 W. 14th Ave., a brother and sister at home, and three grandparents. The Marquardt Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Stephan was attending the State School Safety Patrol Congress at the Wisconsin Dells along with other Oshkosh boys. He and three other boys were taking pictures near their motel cabin when he looked over a ledge into the water, losing his balance and falling in. The boys had been warned by Sgt. John Kieckhefer, Oshkosh police department, who accompanied the boys, not to go near the water.

Spring Chill Clinging to Fox Cities

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wisconsin had a hard time shaking off a late spring chill today following a weekend switch of winds to the north.

The cold front held Sunday's temperatures to the 60s in most areas, although La Crosse reached a high of 71 and Superior managed only a peak of 59.

At night scattered frost hit the state as the mercury tumbled all the way to 30 degrees at a Weather Bureau station in Wausau.

Lone Rock reported 32, Wausau 36, Eau Claire and Superior 37, Green Bay 40, Beloit 43 and La Crosse 44.

The only precipitation to hit Wisconsin in the 25-hour period ending at daybreak today was a little light drizzle in the Milwaukee area early Sunday.

Skies were clear throughout Wisconsin at mid-morning today. Presidio, Tex., set the national high of 105 Sunday and Traverse City, Mich., hit the low of 27 early today.

Catholic Vets Against Kennedy-Nikita Meeting

FOND DU LAC (AP) — The Catholic War Veterans of Wisconsin are urging President Kennedy to cancel his scheduled meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev next month.

The world would construe such a conference "as a sign of U.S. weakness in the wake of the Cuban debacle and the setback in Laos," the veterans' organization said in a resolution adopted Sunday at its annual convention.

Another resolution urged that parochial schools be included in a federal aid bill to education passed by Congress.

William Salomone, Milwaukee, was elected state commander at the conclusion of the three-day conference. Others elected included: Frank Stuten, Chippewa Falls, Carl Krouss, Madison, and Paul Schmidt, Madison, vice commanders; Al Stoegbauer, Appleton, treasurer; Joe Drexler, Oshkosh, medical officer; John Henry, Madison; historian; Earl Warty, Milwaukee, welfare officer; John Walter, Milwaukee, officer of the day; Clarence P. Otrykus, Milwaukee, judge advocate; Dan Guthrie, Ashland, Walter Laess, Green Bay, and Earl McCormick, Fond du Lac, trustees.

Menasha Dedicates Yearbook To Social Science Teacher
MENASHA — "Nicolet 1961," the Menasha High School yearbook distributed Friday to students, is dedicated to Robert Bachhuber, social sciences instructor.

On the dedication page, Bachhuber is described as "an inspiring teacher, sympathetic adviser and warm friend. Students studying in his classes have found his story to be interesting as well as vitally important to understanding of the world of today and of the future. Many students, in addition to the members of the student senate (which he also advises) will attest to his great service as a counselor."

The book, the only one in Wisconsin printed by the students, portrays, devotes its sections to the four classes, administration, faculty, sports and other activities. The book was set and printed in the high school's printing department, under direction of H. O. Griffith and Giles Woolf.

Sally Becker and Robert Lang are co-editors. William Ritchie is business manager, Mary Kondy solicitation manager and Steve Bachhuber advertising manager.

The book's cover, only portion not produced in the high school, centers about a pendulum weight. The division pages have old-style pocket watches as art pieces, in keeping with the foreword, entitled "As the Day Begins."

To Your Good Health

Powdered Eggs Have Organ Which May Cause Diarrhea

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Why aren't powdered eggs supposed to be cooked on top of the stove?"

"My husband has been out of work, and we are getting government surplus to help out."

"The directions for the powdered eggs were to cook them in the oven. It is quite expensive to use the oven just to cook scrambled eggs, and I have been wondering if this is a matter of them not cooking as well on top of the stove, or if it is a health hazard.—Mrs. B. G."

It's a matter of health. Powdered eggs do (or may) contain an organism which can cause severe diarrhea.

Heat Thoroughly
To make sure that this organism will be unable to do any such harm, every particle must be heated thoroughly, all the way through, at a temperature which will absolutely do the job.

In my opinion cooking powdered eggs in the oven is the only rule-of-thumb that will assure complete safety.

I'm quite aware that some people ignore the directions and, for instance, mix the powdered eggs with water and fry them on top of the stove.

They may get away with this successfully. But then, I suppose most of our tried and proved health rules can be ignored with impunity—sometimes.

However, none of them can be ignored indefinitely without paying the consequences, so be sure to follow the directions.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has been forced to go to work on a split shift. He comes in about 4 p.m., eats his big main meal, and then lies down and has an hour nap before he goes back to work."

"I feel he should have his nap first and eat afterward. I don't think it is good for him to lie down on a full stomach. Am I right?—Mrs. F.K."

Darned if I know why you object to a nap after a meal. Your husband comes home hungry—and after he has his dinner, he relaxes. That's entirely normal. In fact, it's a good thing to relax after eating, and let the body devote its energies to digestion. There's nothing wrong with relaxing after eating.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My wife has had the change of life for over six months, and always feels hot flashes, weakness and other complaints. Does it take that long, or is she just imagining it?—J.R."

Symptoms of the menopause (or change of life) may last a few months or for two years or so—but she ought to see a doctor because there are medicines which will help her over the period.

Tell Doctor
"Dear Dr. Molner: I've noticed that my past several bowel movements were black in color. I'm quite concerned.—S.J."

Black stool can mean bleeding, relatively high in the intestinal tract—a bleeding stomach or duodenal ulcer, for example. By the time the blood has traveled through the digestive system, it can turn dark and no longer show any red color. True, a few things you eat can cause this dark color, occasionally—but not repeatedly, unless you keep eating them regularly and that's rare. Few if any foods that are ordinarily eaten every day will do this. Inform your doctor at once, and let him find out whether the cause is serious, moderate or trivial.

NOTE TO W.K.: Surgery is the only satisfactory way I know to put an end to the nuisance of a blind fistula.

"Don't Quit Because Of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Skilled Help Main Need for Jobs Now

BY SYLVIA PORTER

We are into a business upswing which will lift our economy to new peaks this fall and which, I suspect, may become substantially more powerful than most experts now anticipate. Yet, in the face of this, there is no question that the rate of joblessness among untrained youngsters and unskilled men whose jobs have been erased forever will remain intolerably high. The stark reason is these won't be prepared to fill the jobs which will be opening.

We are threatened with a crucial shortage of skilled workers during this decade of dramatic technological advance. Yet we also are threatened with mass unemployment, because so many of our young workers won't have learned the skills our economy will be seeking.

In the previous four columns, I outlined the pioneering training, retraining programs being initiated by the Federal Government, paid tribute to the constructive efforts of individual companies, unions and communities to meet the challenge of the unskilled worker. But not even the most grandiose government program—which none of us wants—and not even the most elaborate corporation and union efforts will solve the problem unless YOU play your part.

There's no kidding about this. To be specific:

You Can Help

You can help tremendously just by understanding and doing your utmost to publicize the fact that youngsters who now drop out of school are doomed to stay at the bottom of the job and income pile for life. You've read the projections in this series—in this decade 7,500,000 will drop out before obtaining a high school diploma, 2,500,000 will drop out before completing grade school. Warn the parents of these children and the children what dropping out means: make them realize that they'll be the truly handicapped in an era which will demand skilled workers. You can help tremendously by giving the worker who goes in for manual training the respect and status his career warrants. We need surgeons, sure; we need mechanics too. The snobishness toward a skilled mechanic which so many Americans practice discourages youngsters who would like to be and could be superb craftsmen. Change your own attitude and you'll influence the attitude of your children and we'll all benefit.

You can help tremendously by insisting on a higher calibre of education among the vocational schools of our country. Our vocational schools are generally inferior, incapable of giving to the youngsters the skills they and our nation need.

You can help tremendously by saluting and actively supporting employers who have the decency to give as much thought to the problem of a displaced man as to the problem of a displaced machine. Many employers are trying—with on-the-job training programs, financial assistance to those who can qualify for and want retraining—and many more will try if they're given incentives or if they feel the expenses will be more than repaid by community and customer good will. Similarly, you can help by saluting and actively supporting union programs in this area.

Should Participate

You can help tremendously by developing and participating in community projects to train youngsters and retrain workers for jobs that are and will be opening, to locate and relocate workers in the areas where the jobs are and will be. You can vastly improve the job analysis and job placement services in your neighborhood, vastly upgrade the adult education courses available. No government has to do this for you.

A strong, sustained business expansion is the imperative if we're to slash our jobless total to reasonable levels—and, I repeat we will. It may be fortunate enough to get this in coming months.

But even a great upswing will not be much into the hard core of the 2,228,000 who have been jobless 15 weeks or more, the almost 1,000,000 who have been jobless 26 weeks or more. Certainly no upswing will, by itself, change the chilling projections on our untrained youngsters.

Once you recognize these facts, the need for special attacks on the problem of the unskilled jobless becomes obvious. Once you grasp the significance of the challenge to all of us, the common sense of meeting it head-on becomes unassailable.

NLRB Examiner To Study Charges Against Elm Tree

Robert Simon, a National Labor Relations Board examiner, has been assigned to investigate charges of unfair labor practices against Elm Tree Bakeries, 3300 W. College Ave.

Robert Schieve, Teamster union secretary-treasurer, said Simon was assigned Saturday to investigate charges brought by the union last week.

Fifteen Elm Tree long-haul truck drivers have been picketing the plant since Wednesday. They were discharged Tuesday on charges of insubordination. They joined the local Teamsters union Tuesday night.

B. A. Pfefferle, president of the firm, said today the company would make no further comment on the situation, "because it has become a legal question and we have turned the entire matter over to our attorney."

Simon's investigation is expected to take a few days, Schieve said. His findings and recommendation will be submitted to the NLRB.

WE APOLOGIZE!

Because of the large crowds attracted by the sensational bargains offered in this tremendous sale and the limited aisle space in our improved BASEMENT STORE . . . we have been FORCED to CLOSE our DOORS for short periods of time on occasion during the opening days of this sale and ask that you bear with us and be patient. We will continue to resort to this method of handling the crowds ONLY when it is absolutely necessary and suggest that you shop MORNINGS and AFTERNOONS if convenient to avoid the peak crowds!
